Marin Pilot Dies In Navy Jet Crash

A Navy Reserve jet pilot from San Rafael was killed Saturday when his jet plane plunged into San Francisco Bay.

The body of Lt. Cmdr. Jack E. Smith, 39, of 141 Golden Hind Boulevard was found by skindivers about five hours after the crash, wedged in the wreckage.

Smith's companion, Lt. Cmdr. Theodore W. Martin, 39, of San Lorenzo, ejected himself from the plane and parachuted into the bay, where he was picked up by the Coast Guard.

Navy investigators were seeking to learn whether Smith failed to use the ejection gear, or the device failed.

Smith, an architectural representative for W. P. Fuller Co., trained weekends at the Alameda Naval Air Station in Reserve Squadron VA-879.

He and Martin both had been flying jets for about 15 years.

The crash was the second into the bay in three days by an Alameda-based jet. Last Thursday a pilot parachuted to safety from his flaming fighter.

Smith and Martin were on what was described as a routine local training flight in a Lockheed TV-2 trainer.

The plane's power plant began to rumble and surge at 20,000 feet. It dived from a height of 3,500 feet over Oakland Airport and plummeted into the Bay, about 1,000 feet from the end of a runway, into shallow water.

Smith leaves a wife, Helen, and a 12-year-old daughter, Penelope Ann, at the San Rafael home.

He was born in Sioux City, Iowa. He served four and one-half years as a Navy flier in World War II, in the Atlantic and Caribbean. Following the war he attended University of San Francisco, where he received a degree in business administration in 1949. He joined W. P. Fuller and Co. the following year, and had been working as a color consultant to architects.

Tot Falls From Second Story, Lands Unhurt

A two-year-old San Rafael boy fell from a second story window of his home and didn't get a scratch Saturday.

Steve Cotton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jameson of 5 Meadow Avenue, San Rafael, was checked at San Rafael General Hospital and sent home about 2 p.m.

A doctor's check found no cuts, scrapes or bruises, just a few lost tears. His mother said today he was out playing only minutes after he was released from the hospital.

"It was a miracle he didn't get hurt," she said. "I don't know how he could have opened the bedroom window and screen, but somehow he did."

Mrs. Jameson said she heard the boy crying Saturday afternoon and went upstairs to the bedroom and discovered Steve was not there and the window was open. She ran down stairs and outside and was met by the boy walking toward her crying.

Brown Tells City Quit Stalling On Master Road Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown called on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors today to quit stalling and adopt a master traffic plan.

His statement, in a letter to board president Dr. Charles Ertola, followed word that its streets and highways committee would ask the board to reject the general corridor plan for the Western Freeway.

The governor noted that San Francisco is the only major city in California without a traffic plan.

San Francisco's supervisors withdrew support from an existing master plan in January, 1959. Brown said the State Division of Highways has marked time for more than 30 months.

"In the meantime," he went on, "traffic on San Francisco streets becomes less tolerable each month and the situation can only get worse in the absence of action and leadership."

Youths Held For Stealing Beer Cases

William M. Silva, 18, of Marin City and two Sausalito juveniles were caught by Sausalito police at 12:08 a.m. yesterday removing 13 cases of beer from the IDESST hall at 511 Caledonia Street.

After admitting to breaking into the hall and taking the beer, Silva was placed in county jail and the juveniles, one 15 and one 16, were placed in juvenile hall, all on burglary charges.

Officer Michael Berney and Reserve officer James Neubert went to the hall in response to a report by Archie Carroway of 508 Caledonia Street that something was amiss there.

As the officers arrived, they saw the three youths carrying the cases. Called to stop, the three ran in three directions and vanished. They left their car.

Later Silva and one juvenile returned to the car and were arrested. Later they revealed the third youth's name.

Girl, 15, Shot In Jaw As Friend's Rifle Slips

Fifteen-year-old Sally Ann Keegan of 16 West Street, San Rafael, accidentally shot in the jaw Saturday, was reported in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

She was the victim of a bullet discharged from a .22 caliber rifle her mother, Mrs. Katherine M. Keegan, had given as a gift to James F. Boulder, 13.

James and Sally were sitting in the back yard of the Keegan home and talking, when the rifle slipped from his grasp and discharged the boy said. The bullet entered the girl's lower jaw, knocked out several teeth, breaking the jaw, and lodged near the base of the skull. She underwent surgery at the hospital.

James and his mother had been living with the Keegans since his father died several months ago. The Boulders had planned to move to Oakland during the weekend.

The boy said he had found a cartridge in Healdsburg several days ago and put it in the rifle to see if it would fit.

San Anselmo Mercury Hits 109 Degrees

Marin temperatures today rose near the all-time heat records set during a three-day heat wave a month ago.

At noon, the temperature at the county fire station in Woodacre had already reached 102, after a high of 107 yesterday. Humidity was extremely low, with consequent high fire hazard.

It was 93 at noon today in Novato, 93 in Terra Linda, 90 in San Anselmo, 90 in Tamalpais Valley, 89 at the San Rafael City Hall, 87 in Sausalito, 86 in usually cool Mill Valley, 84 in usually cooler Point Reyes Station, and 80 in Tiburon.

A high of 109 was recorded at the San Anselmo firehouse yesterday, closely followed by 107 at Woodacre, 105 in Fairfax, 104 at the main Novato firehouse and 103 in San Rafael.

Other high temperatures in Marin yesterday included 98 in Mill Valley, 92 in Tamalpais Valley, 91 in Sausalito and 88 in Belvedere.

Today's temperatures were not far off the marks set June 14, when 105 was recorded at noon in Woodacre and 98 in San Anselmo and Novato. The temperature that day reached 112 in San Anselmo, Woodacre and Larkspur, and 110 in San Rafael—all-time highs.

The official forecast was for continued hot weather throughout the week.

The heat was general throughout Northern California.

The heat yesterday attracted crowds to beaches and mountain parks but kept many people home, with shades drawn and fans and air conditioners going full blast.

Sausalito Council Faces Long Fund Talks Tonight

Sausalito's position of city clerk is expected to undergo some drastic changes with the resignation of City Clerk Amelie Smith Aug. 1.

Changes, as of now, are proposed specifically as they relate to the financial duties of the job. However, City Manager Charles A. Brown said today there has been no decision yet as to whom the city clerk's duties will be given or as to the hiring of a replacement.

This subject, along with proposed salary increases for employees, and upping of the library and planning commission budgets, will be on the agenda of the city council at its finance committee meeting at 8 p.m. today.

With many of the employees expected to attend, according to police officer Ted Zink, president of the Sausalito Employees Assn., the meeting may have to be held in council chambers. Normally budget meetings are held in the office of the city clerk.

Brown has proposed to the city council a plan whereby financial duties, now under the city clerk, would be made the responsibility of a finance director. However, since the city does not feel it can afford a finance director at this time, they would be handled temporarily by the deputy city clerk and deputy tax collector — but under Brown's supervision.

A department of finance is expected to be set up this year. Brown said he will direct the finance department.

The city clerk job is elective. The council has the right to appoint someone to fill the unexpired term.

Harry Wainwright, representing the employees Association, will appear before the council tonight to ask for pay increases to put the Sausalito salaries in line with other cities in Marin. At present, the attorney said, they are "the lowest in the county."

Trustees of the library are asking the city for an $18,700 budget, an increase of about $5,000.

The planning commission has asked for a $4,065 budget against its 1960-61 budget of $1,436.

High Temperatures For Week Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fair weather with above normal temperatures is forecast through the week in Northern and Central California.

There may be a few scattered thunderstorms in the high mountains, the Weather Bureau added today.

Some cooling near the coast is likely tomorrow if onshore breezes set in as expected.

High temperatures Sunday were around 100 in inland areas. Needles reported 119.

Los Angeles had 90, San Francisco 82 and San Diego 75. On the north coast highs were in the mid-60s.

City Gets Dose Of Smog Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Smog reached the eye-smarting stage in San Francisco today with a .39 reading in the Potrero district at 11 a.m. Eyes smart at .25.

Supervisors To Meet At 9 Tomorrow

Marin County supervisors decided this morning to continue their afternoon session over to 9 a.m. tomorrow though their agenda provided for no session till 2 p.m. tomorrow.

They will take up salary increase and longevity allowances for 30 employees who have been with the county 10 years or more with no pay increases during the past five years.

Welfore Director Betty Presley is to report on 68 state legislative measures with stress on those of major importance to Marin County. Welfare costs will be increased by a number of these, she will advise.

Marin Property Values Top Billion

Assessment Rolls Reach 340 Million

Marin County property for the first time has passed a billion-dollar value, Assessor Bert W. Broemmel reported today to the board of supervisors.

He based this conclusion on a new total assessed value of more than 240 million dollars, representing 23 per cent of fair market value.

The precise total came to $240,458,590 which was up 10.8 per cent as compared with last year.

Supporting this figure was a 10.5 per cent rise in secured roll, to $225,178,830, and a 14.5 per cent increase in unsecured roll to $15,279,760. The overall increase represented a relative weighing of these two amounts, Broemmel told the board.

Broemmel said he had filed his preliminary assessment roll at 9 a.m. today. Number of land parcels has increased from 58,306 to 60,500 of which 16,000 parcels of real property were appraised during the year.

He said 12,423 unsecured assessments were made as against 11,644 last year.

Broemmel noted "only a small increase in church, welfare and veterans exemptions, from $16,065,335 to $16,671,350, or 3.8 per cent."

Cities accounted for 62.4 per cent of locally assessed valuation this year, or $134,263,065, and were up 11.8 per cent. Last year they amounted to 61.9 per cent.

Correspondingly the unincorporated areas dropped slightly to 37.6 per cent of the overall figure but their money total was $82,785,860 and was up 9.2 per cent.

ROSS JUMP

Ross topped all the cities in property value gain, percentage-wise, with a $5,044,930 valuation, up 31.0 per cent. Broemmel said land in Ross rose about 60 per cent.

At the other extreme was Mill Valley, which got its big rise when hit by Broemmel's cycle reappraisal last year whereas Ross took its change this year. Mill Valley was up only 3 per cent to $16,689,535. Belvedere was up 3.1 per cent to $6,896,435.

Second greatest change was

Rent Free Space Offered For Office Of Administrator

A San Rafael landlord, declaring himself "deeply embarrassed" by Marin County supervisors "shocking" actions toward the county administrator, today offered the administrator's $300-a-month Fifth Avenue office suite "free of rent until such time as the unfortunate mess affecting this important office is straightened out."

Chairman William D. Fusselman ordered copies of Albert P. Tognoli's letter made for all board members, following its reading by Clerk George S. Jones, and said the offer would be taken up this afternoon.

Economy was the motive offered by the three-member board majority last week in transferring Administrator Alan Bruce, whose job was saved by referendum petition after his discharge by the supervisors, into a 13-by-13-foot court house room.

Tognoli's letter started off by hitting immediately at this situation:

"I am deeply embarrassed," he wrote, "from what I have seen and have been advised concerning the shocking state of affairs relating to the office space now provided for the county administrator and his staff.

"The administrator and a member of the personnel board are now closeted on the third floor of the new wing of the court house in what was formerly an attorney's conference room.

"The secretary of the administrator is housed in the basement of the court house, and the county administrator's files are in the foyer of the entrance to Department 3 of the Superior Court, and I understand are to be removed and placed in a janitor's closet.

"Certain members of your board have sought to justify this arrangement in the name of economy. A great segment of the people of this county are of the firm opinion that it is inefficiency at its worst and will seriously affect the efficiency of the office and in the end result will prove an unnecessary duplication of time, energy and expense.

"As a lifelong resident of this county and a taxpayer, I feel genuinely embrarassed that my county should be exposed to the criticism and ridicule of neighboring counties in the San Francisco Bay Area.

"I therefore offer the use of the space formerly occupied by the county administrator at my office building, 1000 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. This office space may be occupied by the administrator free of rent until such time as the unfortunate mess affecting this important office is straightened out.

"Therefore I shall be happy to meet with your board and the county counsel, at your convenience, for the purpose of working out such arrangements as may be deemed necessary."

With this offer, the supervisors this afternoon were to take up a letter from Bruce listing 11 functions of an administrator as defined by the state County Supervisors Assn. and asking which they wish him to perform.

County To Sue Aged Couple For $32,000

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety announced today plans for civil action to regain more than $32,000 in various forms of state and county aid obtained by an elderly Mill Valley couple who, he said, have at least $10,000 in cash.

He identified the pair as Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald of 503 Ethel Avenue. He said the husband, 79, resides at home and Mrs. MacDonald, 82, lives in a Marin County rest home.

Part of the assets, he said, consists of 12 envelopes, each containing $500, which MacDonald had put in a coffee jar and buried in the earth of his basement.

Garety said Mrs. Jeannette MacDonald has $3,400 in a savings account, in addition to other funds.

The district attorney has asked County Counsel Warren McGuire to take civil action to regain welfare funds obtained by the couple since 1946. Garety said he brought the matter up at the meeting of the grand jury last Thursday night and recommended against criminal action because of the age and poor health of the pair.

Garety said the situation came to light after a chance remark by Mrs. MacDonald about the assets was reported to a welfore case worker.

Liz Taylor Trip To Moscow Off

NEW YORK, July 10 (UPI)— Actress Elizabeth Taylor, reported "not feeling well," put off for at least 24 hours a flight to Moscow with her singer-husband, Eddie Fisher.

Newsmen trying to reach the couple at the International Hotel at the airport were told by the desk that Fisher and Miss Taylor had left word they were "not to be disturbed."

A hotel spokesman said he had been told by Fisher that they were postponing their flight for about 24 hours.

The couple arrived from Hollywood last night for what was to have been only an overnight stop.

Tot Falls From Second Story, Lands Unhurt

A two-year-old San Rafael boy fell from a second story window of his home and didn't get a scratch Saturday.

Steve Cotton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jameson of 5 Meadow Avenue, San Rafael, was checked at San Rafael General Hospital and sent home about 2 p.m.

A doctor's check found no cuts, scrapes or bruises, just a few lost tears. His mother said today he was out playing only minutes after he was released from the hospital.

Brown Tells City Quit Stalling On Master Road Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown called on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors today to quit stalling and adopt a master traffic plan.

His statement, in a letter to board president Dr. Charles Ertola, followed word that its streets and highways committee would ask the board to reject the general corridor plan for the Western Freeway.

The governor noted that San Francisco is the only major city in California without a traffic plan.

San Francisco's supervisors withdrew support from an existing master plan in January, 1959. Brown said the State Division of Highways has marked time for more than 30 months.

"In the meantime," he went on, "traffic on San Francisco streets becomes less tolerable each month and the situation can only get worse in the absence of action and leadership."

Later Silva and one juvenile returned to the car and were arrested. Later they revealed the third youth's name.

Girl, 15, Shot In Jaw As Friend's Rifle Slips

Fifteen-year-old Sally Ann Keegan of 16 West Street, San Rafael, accidentally shot in the jaw Saturday, was reported in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

She was the victim of a bullet discharged from a .22 caliber rifle her mother, Mrs. Katherine M. Keegan, had given as a gift to James F. Boulder, 13.

James and Sally were sitting in the back yard of the Keegan home and talking, when the rifle slipped from his grasp and discharged the boy said. The bullet entered the girl's lower jaw, knocked out several teeth, breaking the jaw, and lodged near the base of the skull. She underwent surgery at the hospital.

Sausalito Council Faces Long Fund Talks Tonight

Sausalito's position of city clerk is expected to undergo some drastic changes with the resignation of City Clerk Amelie Smith Aug. 1.

Marin Property Values Top Billion

Assessment Rolls Reach 340 Million

Marin County property for the first time has passed a billion-dollar value, Assessor Bert W. Broemmel reported today to the board of supervisors.

He based this conclusion on a new total assessed value of more than 240 million dollars, representing 23 per cent of fair market value.

The precise total came to $240,458,590 which was up 10.8 per cent as compared with last year.

Supporting this figure was a 10.5 per cent rise in secured roll, to $225,178,830, and a 14.5 per cent increase in unsecured roll to $15,279,760. The overall increase represented a relative weighing of these two amounts, Broemmel told the board.

Broemmel said he had filed his preliminary assessment roll at 9 a.m. today. Number of land parcels has increased from 58,306 to 60,500 of which 16,000 parcels of real property were appraised during the year.

He said 12,423 unsecured assessments were made as against 11,644 last year.

Broemmel noted "only a small increase in church, welfare and veterans exemptions, from $16,065,335 to $16,671,350, or 3.8 per cent."

Cities accounted for 62.4 per cent of locally assessed valuation this year, or $134,263,065, and were up 11.8 per cent. Last year they amounted to 61.9 per cent.

Correspondingly the unincorporated areas dropped slightly to 37.6 per cent of the overall figure but their money total was $82,785,860 and was up 9.2 per cent.

ROSS JUMP

Ross topped all the cities in property value gain, percentage-wise, with a $5,044,930 valuation, up 31.0 per cent. Broemmel said land in Ross rose about 60 per cent.

At the other extreme was Mill Valley, which got its big rise when hit by Broemmel's cycle reappraisal last year whereas Ross took its change this year. Mill Valley was up only 3 per cent to $16,689,535. Belvedere was up 3.1 per cent to $6,896,435.

Rent Free Space Offered For Office Of Administrator

A San Rafael landlord, declaring himself "deeply embarrassed" by Marin County supervisors "shocking" actions toward the county administrator, today offered the administrator's $300-a-month Fifth Avenue office suite "free of rent until such time as the unfortunate mess affecting this important office is straightened out."

Chairman William D. Fusselman ordered copies of Albert P. Tognoli's letter made for all board members, following its reading by Clerk George S. Jones, and said the offer would be taken up this afternoon.

Economy was the motive offered by the three-member board majority last week in transferring Administrator Alan Bruce, whose job was saved by referendum petition after his discharge by the supervisors, into a 13-by-13-foot court house room.

Tognoli's letter started off by hitting immediately at this situation:

"I am deeply embarrassed," he wrote, "from what I have seen and have been advised concerning the shocking state of affairs relating to the office space now provided for the county administrator and his staff.

"The administrator and a member of the personnel board are now closeted on the third floor of the new wing of the court house in what was formerly an attorney's conference room.

"The secretary of the administrator is housed in the basement of the court house, and the county administrator's files are in the foyer of the entrance to Department 3 of the Superior Court, and I understand are to be removed and placed in a janitor's closet.

"Certain members of your board have sought to justify this arrangement in the name of economy. A great segment of the people of this county are of the firm opinion that it is inefficiency at its worst and will seriously affect the efficiency of the office and in the end result will prove an unnecessary duplication of time, energy and expense.

"As a lifelong resident of this county and a taxpayer, I feel genuinely embrarassed that my county should be exposed to the criticism and ridicule of neighboring counties in the San Francisco Bay Area.

"I therefore offer the use of the space formerly occupied by the county administrator at my office building, 1000 Fifth Ave. nue, San Rafael. This office space may be occupied by the administrator free of rent until such time as the unfortunate mess affecting this important office is straightened out.

"Therefore I shall be happy to meet with your board and the county counsel, at your convenience, for the purpose of working out such arrangements as may be deemed necessary."

With this offer, the supervisors this afternoon were to take up a letter from Bruce listing 11 functions of an administrator as defined by the state County Supervisors Assn. and asking which they wish him to perform.

County To Sue Aged Couple For $32,000

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety announced today plans for civil action to regain more than $32,000 in various forms of state and county aid obtained by an elderly Mill Valley couple who, he said, have at least $10,000 in cash.

He identified the pair as Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald of 503 Ethel Avenue. He said the husband, 79, resides at home and Mrs. MacDonald, 82, lives in a Marin County rest home.

Part of the assets, he said, consists of 12 envelopes, each containing $500, which MacDonald had put in a coffee jar and buried in the earth of his basement.

Garety said Mrs. Jeannette MacDonald has $3,400 in a savings account, in addition to other funds.

The district attorney has asked County Counsel Warren McGuire to take civil action to regain welfare funds obtained by the couple since 1946. Garety said he brought the matter up at the meeting of the grand jury last Thursday night and recommended against criminal action because of the age and poor health of the pair.

Garety said the situation came to light after a chance remark by Mrs. MacDonald about the assets was reported to a welfore case worker.

Liz Taylor Trip To Moscow Off

NEW YORK, July 10 (UPI)— Actress Elizabeth Taylor, reported "not feeling well," put off for at least 24 hours a flight to Moscow with her singer-husband, Eddie Fisher.

Newsmen trying to reach the couple at the International Hotel at the airport were told by the desk that Fisher and Miss Taylor had left word they were "not to be disturbed."

A hotel spokesman said he had been told by Fisher that they were postponing their flight for about 24 hours.

The couple arrived from Hollywood last night for what was to have been only an overnight stop.

HEAT THINS CROWD FOR FOLK DANCE FESTIVAL

Folk dancers played to nearly empty stands at College of Marin football field yesterday as heat that topped 100 degrees kept crowds away. 237 Lost Off Africa As Ship Grounds, Burns

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP)—The Portuguese Maritime Ministry announced today 237 persons are dead or missing and presumed dead from the grounded and burning Portuguese ship Save. Most were African Negro passengers.

The 2,037-ton transport was swept onto a sandbar in a storm Saturday in the Mozambique Channel, off Southeast Africa, and a series of explosions ripped the hull and engulfed her in flames.

The ministry said there were 490 persons aboard the ship, including a 44-man crew, and that 253 were saved, some of them suffering injuries.

Estimates of the total aboard previously had ranged above 500. Some of the passengers were troops, others were mine laborers.

The disaster struck near the Linde River estuary of northern Mozambique.

It was thought many of the missing swam safely ashore but landed at various points and would be hard to round up.

The Portuguese army still had not issued an announcement giving any official information.

Helicopters were ferrying the injured and other survivors to Beira and Lourenco Marques. Light aircraft were trying to land on the beach at low tide, and small boats were searching the area for survivors.

Rescue parties also were making their way overland to the isolated area.

The Save, named for a river in Mozambique, had sailed from Lourenco Marqes with troops, laborers and military supplies for calls at northern ports in the sprawling East African colony.

Mozambique is largely under military control and Portugal has been pouring troops into the country to prevent a nationalist uprising like that raging in the sister colony of Angola.

A San Francisco man was booked at Marin County Jail on a drunk driving charge after he was injured when his car ran off Highway 101 two miles north of Novato yesterday.

Israel Villagomez, 26, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut chin and bump on the head before he was jailed. The California Highway Patrol said he lost control of the car and veered completely across the north and southbound lanes.

FILIPINOS ASK GEN. MAC's CAP AS MEMORIAL

MANILA (UPI)—The Philippine people would like General of the Army Douglas MacArthur to leave them his battered scrambled eggs cap as a memorial.

As he did in all the Pacific war campaigns and the Korean hostilities, MacArthur has worn the gold braid officer's cap during his current sentimental visit to the Philippines.

Several newspaper editorials and columnists have suggested the general give his cap to the Philippines to be placed in a war memorial museum.

Brief Claims Marine Held 'Like Animal'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Marine lieutenant colonel charged in a brief made public yesterday that a private was imprisoned for 43 days in a windowless five-by-seven foot box for allegedly escaping from a brig on Okinawa.

Lt. Col. James E. Stauffer, defense attorney for Pvt. Stobo C. West, 31, of Union County, S. C., charged that his client was imprisoned under conditions that were "unbelievable, sadistic and barbaric."

Stauffer's brief further charged that West did not escape from the Okinawa military prison, but was freed for a 10-day period to help authorities break up a widespread civilian black market operation.

Evidence West gave against the civilians later was used against him, according to the brief, which charged the private was subject to "cold and calculated animal-like treatment" while awaiting trial on Okinawa.

Stauffer charged that West was released from the box-like prison only briefly to go to the bathroom and for an occasional shower. His meager meals were eaten on a cement floor, the brief said.

West's trial was held a year ago, and Stauffer said the defendant was forced to appear unshaven and in dirty clothes. West presently is in custody at Treasure Island, while the case is being appealed to the Navy judge advocate general's court at San Bruno.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Political quarters reported today that Jordan was considering a proposal for an Arab union that would include Iraq and Kuwait and thus solve their territorial dispute.

Although official confirmation is lacking, the plan is believed to envision a merger of Jordan, Iraq, Kuwait and possibly Saudi Arabia. Membership also would be open to other Persian Gulf sheikdoms.

Each government would retain internal autonomy. But foreign, economic and military policies would be handled by a federal government.

Eichmann Exhausted

JERUSALEM (AP) — Shaking from lack of sleep and nervous tension, Adolf Eichmann asked for and got a morning recess today to sleep off the rigors of his long trial. He returned to the witness stand in the afternoon, staring straight ahead with normally impassive demeanor.

He slept during the morning on a narrow cot in his solitary confinement cell.

Too Complicated

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia College has taken its advanced course in contemporary civilization off the compulsory list for sophomores. The reason: Contemporary civilization has become too complex.

A report issued by the faculty committee noted regretfully that the course was a casualty of the trend of the social sciences toward becoming so technical and specialized as to defy "translating technical language into ordinary discourse."

Napa Fire Burns Over 1,000 Acres

NAPA (UPI)—Firefighters battled a timber and brush fire north of Napa last night and today which has so far consumed about 1,000 acres.

A Forest Service spokesman said the fire still was out of control and probably would not be contained until night. He said warm weather and rugged country caused unexpected difficulties today.

The fire broke out Saturday at the George A. Proctor ranch three miles northeast of here. The fire destroyed a winery and quickly fanned into nearby brush and timber.

Approximately 350 men including 50 inmates from a prison conservation camp in the Sierras, fought the flames. More firefighters were expected to be brought in today.

Gusty winds pumped new life into the blaze early yesterday after firefighters brought it under control Saturday night. The fresh flames leaped firelines and covered 500 more acres after it was first controlled.

No homes were immediately threatened, the spokesman said, but he added that a sudden change of wind could shift the fire's direction and pose new threats.

Four inmates from the Vacaville Medical Facility, called out to fight the blaze, were rescued last night after they were reported overcome by heat on hill near Mt. George, where the fire was centered.

There have been only two minor injuries to firefighters, officials said.

The fire's five-mile front was cut to two miles by firefighters late last night. But today a two-mile front in rugged mountain couutry posed a problem in moving heavy equipment in to fight the blaze.

Structural damage was confined to four buildings on the Proctor ranch, with damage to the property estimated at $75,000.

Jet Base Dedicated

LEMOORE NAVAL AIR STATION (UPI)—Navy personnel were busy returning this $100 million jet air base to normal operations today after hosting 110,000 visitors during the weekend.

The huge crowd streamed into the installation under construction in western Kings-Fresno County to view commissioning ceremonies on Saturday. The base, 31 square miles in size—with another 17 square miles leased back by the Navy for restricted farming use, will primarily provide operational training for fleet carrier units.

New Arab Union

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Political quarters reported today that Jordan was considering a proposal for an Arab union that would include Iraq and Kuwait and thus solve their territorial dispute.

Although official confirmation is lacking, the plan is believed to envision a merger of Jordan, Iraq, Kuwait and possibly Saudi Arabia. Membership also would be open to other Persian Gulf sheikdoms.

Each government would retain internal autonomy. But foreign, economic and military policies would be handled by a federal government.

Laos Talks Blocked

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union has rejected a new British compromise proposal aimed at breaking the deadlock that has all but halted the 14-power conference on Laos.

Now in their eighth week, the talks have bogged down over Communist demands that the neutrality of Laos be proclaimed immediately and Western insistense that an effective cease-fire in Laos must be assured first.

Auto Contract Talks

DETROIT (AP)—New contract negotiations were resumed at Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. today by the United Auto Workers Union.

The union returns to bargaining with Chrysler Corp. Tuesday and with American Motors Corp. July 26.

When talks were recessed last Friday, the union indicated it planned to complete its presentation of new contract proposals this week.

The UAW's current three-year contracts expire Aug. 31 at the Big Three and Sept. 6 at AMC.

Eichmann Exhausted

JERUSALEM (AP) — Shaking from lack of sleep and nervous tension, Adolf Eichmann asked for and got a morning recess today to sleep off the rigors of his long trial. He returned to the witness stand in the afternoon, staring straight ahead with normally impassive demeanor.

Eichmann underwent rigorous cross-examination by Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner during the last court session Friday. This was to have continued this morning but was suspended until the afternoon at Eichmann's request.

He slept during the morning on a narrow cot in his solitary confinement cell.

Alcoholism Rising

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, chairman of the National Committee for the Prevention of Alcoholism, says the disease is on the increase in the United States.

The Chicago physician told a medical seminar on alcoholism yesterday that alcoholics in this country now number about 5.4 million.

He described an alcoholic as one whose drinking causes him trouble at home, socially or in business but who does not stop in spite of the difficulty.

Marilyn Recovering

NEW YORK (UPI) — Actress Marilyn Monroe will be discharged from Polyclinic Hospital tomorrow after a successful recuperation from surgery for removal of her gall bladder, the hospital announced.

A spokesman for Miss Monroe said she would continue to rest for several weeks at her New York apartment.

'Creative Trouble'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A leader of the integration movement in the South says he doesn't mind being called a troublemaker "if it's creative trouble I'm bringing about."

"I think it's necessary to bring on tension—so long as there is non-violence," said the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. in an interview.

He made the remarks when asked yesterday to comment about accusations of some that he is a troublemaker.

Nixon At Meeting

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon plans to meet with California Republican leaders here Tuesday to discuss party strategy in the state.

He has said the conference would not consider the possibility of his candidacy or the candidacy of others. Nixon, mentioned as a possible gubernatorial candidate, repeatedly has said he does not plan to seek state office.

Nixon said last week the group would discuss state reapportionment, fund raising and other party activities.

Kennedy Errs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says President Kennedy "has made an error" in failing to prod Congress for new civil rights legislation.

But the secretary, Roy Wilkins, insisted he wasn't quarreling with the Kennedy administration, nor castigating it for the President "has done fine in appointment of Negroes to high offices" and eliminating segregation policties in plants that do business with the government.

Too Complicated

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia College has taken its advanced course in contemporary civilization off the compulsory list for sophomores. The reason: Contemporary civilization has become too complex.

A report issued by the faculty committee noted regretfully that the course was a casualty of the trend of the social sciences toward becoming so technical and specialized as to defy "translating technical language into ordinary discourse."

Napa Fire Burns Over 1,000 Acres

NAPA (UPI)—Firefighters battled a timber and brush fire north of Napa last night and today which has so far consumed about 1,000 acres.

A Forest Service spokesman said the fire still was out of control and probably would not be contained until night. He said warm weather and rugged country caused unexpected difficulties today.

The fire broke out Saturday at the George A. Proctor ranch three miles northeast of here. The fire destroyed a winery and quickly fanned into nearby brush and timber.

Approximately 350 men including 50 inmates from a prison conservation camp in the Sierras, fought the flames. More firefighters were expected to be brought in today.

Gusty winds pumped new life into the blaze early yesterday after firefighters brought it under control Saturday night. The fresh flames leaped firelines and covered 500 more acres after it was first controlled.

No homes were immediately threatened, the spokesman said, but he added that a sudden change of wind could shift the fire's direction and pose new threats.

Four inmates from the Vacaville Medical Facility, called out to fight the blaze, were rescued last night after they were reported overcome by heat on hill near Mt. George, where the fire was centered.

There have been only two minor injuries to firefighters, officials said.

The fire's five-mile front was cut to two miles by firefighters late last night. But today a a two-mile front in rugged mountain couutry posed a problem in moving heavy equipment in to fight the blaze.

Structural damage was confined to four buildings on the Proctor ranch, with damage to the property estimated at $75,000.

Russ Unveil New Jet Aircraft

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union showed off its air might yesterday in a dazzling display that struck Western diplomats as a gesture designed to strengthen Kremlin demands on Berlin.

Premier Khrushchev and Cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin watched side by side along with a crowd of 50,000 while the Soviet air force paraded a spectacular array of new craft at Moscow's Tushino Airfield.

Western experts watching the show—first the Soviets have staged since 1958—said the United States has nothing to match several of the entries, including a jet fighter that can light up a liquid rocket engine booster in flight to gain a tremendous rate of climb.

The most spectacular attraction shown publicly for the first time was a delta wing bomber the announcer said had a speed several times that of sound. The plane looked bigger than the eight-engine U.S. B52 and had four jets, two on the wing tips and two inboard below the wings.

Western air attaches showed keen interest in a flypast of 10 heavy supersonic bombers which also made their first public appearance. This new model's two engines were mounted on the rear atop the long, slender fuselage. It had high swept wings and was comparable in size to the U.S. B58, whose publicly admitted speed is 1,500 miles per hour.

"A very impressive show," said the U.S. air attache, Col. Melvin Neilsen. "It's evident the Russians have continued with the development of all classes of aircraft."

Western observers said the show made clear the Soviets are not pinning all their faith on long-range missiles alone.

The fighters carired air-to-air rockets instead of conventional cannon. The new bombers were armed with air-to-surface missiles instead of bombs.

The Soviets gave advance billing to a vertical takeoff plane that does not depend on a jet thrust to get it aloft. Called a "screw wing plane" it was a cross between a plane and a helicopter.

Two engines were mounted at the end of each wing, and it had two rotors atop each wing making it highly maneuverable and able to carry either troops or freight.

Another new model was a three-tail jet-powered helicopter that landed and unloaded a cargo of rockets.

One novelty was a giant helicopter capable of hauling 180 men. It appeared carrying a wooden house under its belly and landed it on the field. The house was about the size of a large car trailer in the United States.

The Soviets spiced up their show with a flypast of 15 helicopters each carrying a trapeze on which sat a pretty girl each dressed in the national costume of one of the 15 Soviet Republics.

Another crowd-pleasing feature was a mass drop of 600 men with brightly colored parachutes.

Air Marshal Konstantin Vershinin who directed the show said in an aviation day article in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda that many of the Soviet air force's jets have no equal in the world for speed, altitude and flight range.

ROME (UPI)—What is the ideal traffic policeman like?

He's tall, resolute, mentally well balanced and sparkl with imagination. He can t the wheel of any type of vehicle and his courtesy is unlimited. He speaks several foreign languages and naturally demonstrates deep interest in traffic problems.

The draft of this perfect traffic cop was established during the International Congress of Road Traffic held here recently.

No country present at the Congress claimed to possess such a policeman.

'A HEALTHY PLACE'

Marin County's health is "good—in many ways above average for the state and nation," says Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, in her annual report for 1960 just issued.

But she adds that the price is "eternal vigilance" because Marin's rapid population growth brings many public health problems, lengthened life span creates need for more attention to the problems of the aged, chronic disease control programs "are becoming increasingly urgent," and the working-age population between 21 and 65 "should receive as much attention to their health as any 'special' groups."

Dr. Albrecht bolsters these points by figures of 71 per cent population increase in the past decade as against 55 per cent rise in size of the health department.

Marin's fast growth, comparing with 48.5 per cent increase for the whole state and only 24 per cent rise for the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area, is expected to continue even if other parts of California slow down during the '60s, says Dr. Albrecht.

The report finds Marin's infant death rate declining from 19.5 per thousand population in 1950 to 17.4 in 1959, this latter figure comparing with 23.6 for California and 26.4 for the whole country.

"Marin County," declares Dr. Albrecht, "can confidently be considered one of the most healthful places in the United States in which to raise babies."

Heart diseases formed the largest single categories of death causes, accounting for 37.2 per cent, with cancer and similar malignancies second at 16.6 followed by circulatory ailments affecting the central nervous system, 11.0.

Cirrhosis of the liver, eighth highest death cause statewide, ranks sixth in Marin with 4.0 per cent, accidents accounting for 6.0 and diseases of early infancy 4.1, followed by influenza and pneumonia 3.3 per cent.

Services offered by the health department are listed as aid in environmental sanitation such as restaurant and school inspection and water tests; communicable disease control; mental health services; preventive services; public information and vital statistics.

In spite of improved modern drugs effective against syphilis and gonorrhea, the report notes these diseases have shown "an alarming increase over the past five years," which it says is explainable only in terms of public apathy and ignorance. In 1960 a total of 23 cases of syphilis were reported in Marin as against one each in 1956 and 1957, five in 1958 and eight in 1959.

Tuberculosis is termed "down but not out," while special warning is given against rabies due to wild animals in this county. Bats with rabies were first found here in 1959.

Sermon Describes State Of Pharisees' Religion

Jesus said: "For I tell you, unless your rightousness exceeds that of the scribes and pharisees you will never enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

Rev. Tod Ewald, rector of Holy Innocent's Episcopal Parish in Corte Madera, interpreted this passage from the book of St. Matthew in his sermon to the congregation yesterday.

"First of all," said the rector, referring to the scribes and pharisees of biblical times, "their religion did not go far enough. It hardly got off the ground. There was no compassion for their fellowmen and they had few dealings with foreigners.

"Their aloofness was most pitiful to behold when they would draw their robes tightly about them upon passing an obnoxious person in order to avoid contamination. We today do not openly go through such antics, but our righteousness does fall short of the mark that is demanded of us in comparing it with the compassion of Christ."

Father Ewald maintained that the scribes and pharisees did not have any "breadth" to their religion. That they were only concerned with the "thou shall nots." The rector declared that "too often today we find 'Mr. Average Christian' filled with such negation."

Father Ewald maintained that the "Lord is seeing in these ancient leaders the evil of acting as creator, making souls in their own image and likeness, not allowing the love of God to plumb their hearts, and as a result, there is a breaking out with a rash of criticism and condemnation."

The rector told the congregation that judgment belongs to God alone and that many things that are blamed on others are a result of corporate sin which involves everyone.

"Start loving; start living vicariously and you will know exactly what Jesus meant," said the rector.

"We must exceed the religion of the former leaders," he declared, "because it was too limited. It was earthbound. It did not demand risk, action through giving, nor asiration. They never gained any altitude because they were bound to earth through formalism. They could see in Christ no hidden power that would raise them up and as a result they killed Him, thinking they were doing God a favor.

"Let us be cautious," concluded the rector, "that we do not emulate the scribes and pharisees. We must add some dimension to our religion, and above all, put ourselves in a closer perspective with God."

San Rafael Man Reported Missing

Mrs. William E. Ferguson of 51 Orange Street, San Rafael, told sheriff's deputies yesterday her husband has been missing since June 17 when he left home and did not return.

Ferguson had been concerned about finances and had recently been laid off his job as a truck driver, she said.

The missing man is 35, five feet, eight inches tall, weighs 170, has light brown hair and blue eyes, heavy build.

'Armor' Fails To Save Inmate From Stab Wounds At Prison

A San Quentin Prison convict who apparently tried to use two metal mess hall trays as protective "armor" was stabbed twice yesterday by an unknown attacker in the prison's lower recreation yard.

John Ellis, 27, suffered a cut on the left temple, requiring four stitches, and a cut on the left shoulder, requiring two stitches. He was released from the prison hospital after treatment and placed in a holding cell, pending further investigation.

Convicted of first degree robbery in Riverside County, Ellis has been at San Quentin since May. He is serving a five years to life sentence. He served a previous term at the prison for auto theft and escape.

A prison officer saw Ellis pull his shirt off in the yard, and noticed it was bloody. He found Ellis had been stabbed. Nearby were the two mess trays. Officer of the Day Howard McGarry said Ellis had apparently used them as armor. Two knives made from scrap metal also were found in the yard.

The stabbing took place during a recreational period with other prisoners in the area. McGarry said there were no witnesses and Ellis would say nothing about the attack.

Ellis has been in trouble for gambling activities during his previous stay at the prison, the officers said.

'A HEALTHY PLACE'

Marin County's health is "good—in many ways above average for the state and nation," says Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, in her annual report for 1960 just issued.

But she adds that the price is "eternal vigilance" because Marin's rapid population growth brings many public health problems, lengthened life span creates need for more attention to the problems of the aged, chronic disease control programs "are becoming increasingly urgent," and the working-age population between 21 and 65 "should receive as much attention to their health as any 'special' groups."

MAN'S FIRST BASE ON MOON

The "Mountains of Eternal Light" near the moon's north pole would make an ideal location for man's first permanent lunar base, say North American Aviation Corp. scientists in the Space and Information System division. They said continuous sunlight would operate equipment with solar power. Food and oxygen-producing plants would be grown in the inflatable plastic structure at left. Earth is seen in background of this artist's conception. (UPI Telephoto)

Air Force Scores Easy Catch Of Nose Cone

HICKAM AIR FORCE BASE, Hawaii (AP)—Air Force fliers who plucked another Discoverer nose cone from the sky on its return from space hoped today that the next aerial recovery "gives us something that wiggles."

Airmen at this mid-Pacific base said they were confident they could retrieve any capsule that could be brought back into the earth's atmosphere. "But next time," said one, "please let's have something alive in there. These instruments are getting routine."

SNAGGED IN AIR

Discoverer's XXVI'c instrument-jammed nose cone was snagged in the air by a C119 recovery plane Sunday as the space packet parachuted 270 miles northwest of Hawaii. The twin-engined plane, one of eight circling over the impact area, made the catch on its first pass with its trailing trapeze-like hooks. The recovery came just 29 minutes after the capsule was kicked loose from space over Kodiak, Alaska.

It was the fourth aerial grab of a Discoverer cone. Two others were fished from the sea.

The gold-plated capsule, sealed in a gray cannister, was flown to Sunnyvale, Calif., last night for examination by space scientists. It had circled the globe 32 times on a polar orbit since its launching Friday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Contents of the capsule were not disclosed but an Air Force spokesman said nothing aboard was alive.

TWINKLING

Greeting the pilot, Capt. Jack R. Wilson, 37, of Toledo, Ohio, were the two other pilots to affect aerial recoveries. Capt. Harold Mitchell of Bloomington, Ill., who made the first catch 11 months ago, and Capt. Gene Jones of Dayton, Wash., who snagged two capsules, presented cigars to the beaming Wilson.

Wilson said the nose cone "looked like it was twinkling, like it had a battery of lights on it" as it floated down through a layer of clouds. "We firsts potted it about 20,000 feet above us," he said.

The nose cone spent 50 hours and 36 minutes in space attached to the 25-foot-long second stage of the Discoverer rocket. The release was triggered at Sunnyvale, the Air Force disclosed.

It was originally reported the capsule would remain in orbit four days. There was no formal explanation why it was brought back earlier but an Air Force officer said: "The nose cone was in an ideal position for a recovery attempt. Anyway, the scientists had probably gotten all the space data they could get out of this one."

Krushchev Tough Talk Leads JFK To Reappraisal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has ordered the defense department to re-appraise U.S. military power in the light of increased Soviet arms sperding and new threats to Berlin, it was revealed today.

The review — which could lead to a stepped-up defense effort—was first disclosed in Senate testimony by deputy defense secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric. It was later confirmed in a formal statement by defense secretary Robert S. McNamara.

Gilpatrick said the president ordered the review Saturday after Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev announced that Russia was calling off its planned reductions in military manpower. Khrushchev said this was being done because of the current world situation, obviously meaning mounting tensions over Berlin.

McNamara said the United States had no choice, in view of Khrushchev's latest threats, but to "re-examine our needs."

"This we are doing," he said.

At the same time, the defense chief gave the nation assurance that "we are strong—if not stronger than any potential aggressor."

McNamara said "nothing that has developed in the United States or the free world calls for increased militarism." He said America had demonstrated at Geneva its desire to lighten rather than add to arms burdens and world tension.

"However, the fact that the Soviet Union proposed to increase its military spending cannot be overlooked," he said. "The simplest precaution calls for still another examination of our defense posture."

Good Health Depends On Body's Nerve Network

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The greatest communications system ever built is as old as mankind and will never be out of date. It is more common than the telephone but more complex than the TVA and a fleet of electronic space ships combinded. What is this system?

Your nervous system . . . the incredibly vast network of fibers which links the brain, directly or indirectly with every cell, every organ and every part of your body.

The brain, of course, is the power house which generates, dispatches, receives and interprets messages to and from various parts of your body. The brain and its nerve network are in action every moment of your life—asleep or awake.

The nervous system is so complex that the most learned anatomists and physiologists know very little of its magnitude and function. The greatest electrical project ever conceived by man is insignificant compared with the human power system. One expert has estimated that there are 400 trillion nerve fibers passing through the average human skull into the spinal cord.

What happens when something goes wrong with the nerve network? When a nerve fails to deliver its proper quota of "power" to any part of the body, that part will lose its efficiency and eventually will become diseased because of an interference to the nerve.

Interferences occur most frequently in the spine when a displaced spinal bone (vertebra) will pinch or stretch the nerves within the spine or just outside it. The obvious remedy is to remove the interference.

Chiropractors specialize in removing spinal obstructions to the nervous system. This can be done by X-ray analysis and by skillful hand adjustments of any vertebra found to be causing interference.

New autos – delivered "3 deep"

To make it more economical to deliver new automobiles from factory to markets, Santa Fe has a fleet of 202 triple-deck and 44 double-deck new Auto-Veyor cars in service–and 100 more on order. Each triple-deck car has a capacity of 15 compact or 12 standard autos; each double-deck car hauls an average of 10 larger-type vehicles. This new addition to the Santa Fe fleet is another example of how Santa Fe is helping to meet the transportation needs of the growing West.

Krushchev Tough Talk Leads JFK To Reappraisal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has ordered the defense department to re-appraise U.S. military power in the light of increased Soviet arms spending and new threats to Berlin, it was revealed today.

The review — which could lead to a stepped-up defense effort—was first disclosed in Senate testimony by deputy defense secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric. It was later confirmed in a formal statement by defense secretary Robert S. McNamara.

Gilpatrick said the president ordered the review Saturday after Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev announced that Russia was calling off its planned reductions in military manpower. Khrushchev said this was being done because of the current world situation, obviously meaning mounting tensions over Berlin.

McNamara said the United States had no choice, in view of Khrushchev's latest threats, but to "re-examine our needs."

"This we are doing," he said.

At the same time, the defense chief gave the nation assurance that "we are strong—if not stronger than any potential aggressor."

McNamara said "nothing that has developed in the United States or the free world calls for increased militarism." He said America had demonstrated at Geneva its desire to lighten rather than add to arms burdens and world tension.

"However, the fact that the Soviet Union proposed to increase its military spending cannot be overlooked," he said. "The simplest precaution calls for still another examination of our defense posture."

HERSCHEL SILVERST

Private funeral services for Herschel Silverstone of Kentfield, one of the top five executives of Koret of California, were held yesterday at Portals of Eternity Mausoleum in Colma.

The Independent-Journal through an error in communication, reported Saturday that Silverstone's wife, Mrs. Ruby Silverstone, had died. The Independent-Journal deeply regrets this error and the additional grief and discomfiture it caused the family.

He practiced as an accountant in the east for several years and then came to San Francisco.

He and his wife lived in Mill Valley, begining in 1948, until last January when they moved to Kentfield.

His hobbies were amateur dramatics and hiking.

Silverstone is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Jerrie Yanow of San Francisco, and two grandchildren.

The family requests that tributes be contributions to the American Heart Assn.

Good Health Depends On Body's Nerve Network

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

The greatest communications system ever built is as old as mankind and will never be out of date. It is more common than the telephone but more complex than the TVA and a fleet of electronic space ships combinded. What is this system?

Your nervous system . . . the incredibly vast network of fibers which links the brain, directly or indirectly with every cell, every organ and every part of your body.

The brain, of course, is the power house which generates, dispatches, receives and interprets messages to and from various parts of your body. The brain and its nerve network are in action every moment of your life—asleep or awake.

The nervous system is so complex that the most learned anatomists and physiologists know very little of its magnitude and function. The greatest electrical project ever conceived by man is insignificant compared with the human power system. One expert has estimated that there are 400 trillion nerve fibers passing through the average human skull into the spinal cord.

What happens when something goes wrong with the nerve network? When a nerve fails to deliver its proper quota of "power" to any part of the body, that part will lose its efficiency and eventually will become diseased because of an interference to the nerve.

Interferences occur most frequently in the spine when a displaced spinal bone (vertebra) will pinch or stretch the nerves within the spine or just outside it. The obvious remedy is to remove the interference.

Chiropractors specialize in removing spinal obstructions to the nervous system. This can be done by X-ray analysis and by skillful hand adjustments of any vertebra found to be causing interference.

New autos – delivered "3 deep"

To make it more economical to deliver new automobiles from factory to markets, Santa Fe has a fleet of 202 triple-deck and 44 double-deck new Auto-Veyor cars in service–and 100 more on order. Each triple-deck car has a capacity of 15 compact or 12 standard autos; each double-deck car hauls an average of 10 larger-type vehicles. This new addition to the Santa Fe fleet is another example of how Santa Fe is helping to meet the transportation needs of the growing West.

Trustees To Get Plan For Curriculum Study

The proposal for a citizen curriculum study committee heads the agenda for tomorrow night's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education, at 7:30 o'clock in the administration building at 217 Mission Avenue.

Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson will present his proposal for structure and operation of the committee, and a proposal in behalf of parents protesting against some courses in junior and senior high schools will be presented by Charles G. Strom.

The committee has been proposed as result of parents' urging that "life adjustment" be eliminated from the junior high school curriculum and "freshman orientation" and "exploratory language" from that of the ninth grade.

A "progress report" on the Terra Linda High School swimming pool—on which there has been no progress for some time — also is scheduled. A board of three arbitrators is attempting to resolve a dispute between contractor Max Schenk of Fairfax and architect Carl F. Gromme over the manner in which the pool has been constructed.

Eight teaching appointments will be submitted for approval: Marie Dergatz, to teach girls' physical education at San Rafael High School; James M. Moore, auto shop at San Rafael High; Lawrence Breeze, seventh and eighth grades; Glaudine Gasser, elementary school (grade not specified); Elchard B. Mahl, science and mathematics, San Rafael High; Peter Paolino, business education, San Rafael High; Michael Diaz, social studies, San Rafael High, and Burton Chadwick Jr., health education and mathematics, San Rafael High.

The board will receive a leave of absence request from Harold Tracy, Davidson School teacher who wishes to spend a year overseas teaching a Navy dependent school.

The resignation of James Breedlove as janitor at Terra Linda High School will be received. Breedlove worked as janitor at the school while attending San Francisco Theological Seminary. He graduated last month.

A Good Cake, If You Like Cake

TRENTON, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. Doyle Ricketts tried a new cake recipe and let her three-year-old daughter, Doylene, sample it.

The child took one bite and said the cake was good. Then she took a second bite and announced the cake was perfect. The mother beamed at such praise but a moment later noticed the child was not eating the cake.

"I thought the cake was perfect," she said to the child.

"It is Mommy, but I don't like perfect cake."

Ailing Kita Recovering, Does Dance

DETROIT (AP)—Kita, the baby elephant who swallowed an admirer's rubber ball and became ill, continued to show improvement today.

The half-ton baby was given two gallons of a mixture of oatmeal, brown sugar, honey and liver protein Sunday.

It was her first food since Kita swallowed a ball that rolled into her pen at the Belle Isle Children's Zoo Thursday.

The ball lodged in her throat and zoo veterinarians finally managed to poke the ball past her throat into her stomach Saturday.

But Kita, who came here a year ago, refused to swallow because of a raw, swollen throat. Attendants hosed down her throat with ice water in an effort to reduce the swelling and keep her from dehydrating: then she was froce fed.

"After we finished the forced feeding," Appelhof said, "she galloped playfully back to her quarters, almost getting away from one of her keepers.

"Back in her den she went into Kita's dance," he added.

In this little dance, Kita bounces on first one foot, then the other, swinging her trunk back and forth.

This trunk swinging is a habit of Kita's which proved mighty troublesome when Appelhof was trying to work on her throat. She interfered considerably with his efforts by playfully swinging her trunk.

Speaking of her dancing, Appelhof said, "She can't feel too awfully bad when she does that."

Advanced Aviation Training For Ensign

Burton completed the landing aboard the training carrier USS Antietam operating in the Gulf of Mexico, while under instruction with Training Squadron Five at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Hemingway Widow Sure Death Was Accidental

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP)—Ernest Hemingway's widow said the Nobel Prize-winning author was in such good spirits before his death that she feels "quite certain that this, in some incredible way, was an accident."

She also told newsmen in a special interview Saturday, that he did indeed have several works not yet published — a novel cached in a Cuban bank, another manuscript in a bank at Hailey, Idaho, which he was going to work on this week, and some poems.

Hemingway, 61, died of a shotgun blast in his head July 2, at his mountain home retreat near this southern Idaho Community.

The coroner said it was self-inflicted but maintained that nobody could ever know for sure whether it was accidental or on purpose.

In a copyrighted story in the Minneapolis Tribune Sunday, Professors Leslie Fiedler and Seymour Betsky of Montana State University were quoted as saying after a visit with Hemingway last November that the author "was very, very depressed" and "quite unsure of himself and quite unsure he had written anything worth anything."

"He was just in desperate nervous shape," they said. "The man we saw was something of a ghost."

Dr. George Saviers, Hemingway's physician here, said he sent the author to Mayo's clinic for treatment of high blood pressure last year and again last month when the pressure began to climb. But Dr. Saviers said he talked with Hemingway the day before his death, and "thought he was very fine. He was happy. I thought he was in real good shape."

Variances Ordinance Change Is Proposed

Variances to build on substandard lots in Mill Valley will have to come before the city council in the future if a proposed change in the ordinance is approved, planning chairman A. A. Hemmerling has announced.

At present the planning commission has power to give a variance to build on a substandard lot. The proposed ordinance change would allow the commission to act upon these requests only in an advisory capacity. The commission is expected to discuss the matter of the proposed change at its meeting tomorrow.

Everyone's Telling Us We'll Be In War By Mid-Winter

Everyone has been trying to tell us. President Kennedy has been trying. Premier Khrushchev has been trying. State Department officials have been trying. Now Gen. Douglas MacArthur adds additional warnings.

But so far we don't want to listen. It's all so confusing.

The fact is that although we all want peace, we may be at war over Berlin by mid-winter.

Khrushchev has demanded removal of the Berlin "bone in my throat" by the end of the year. There are reasons to believe he isn't fooling. For one thing, he's bluffed about this before, been called on it and backed down. He can't keep backing down and keep face at home.

President Kennedy went to Vienna to tell Khrushchev face-to-face that we will fight if the Communists force the issue on West Berlin. When the President returned he called the situation "grave" and gave the impression that he hadn't been able to get the idea across. Khrushchev repeated his demands.

At a recent foreign affairs briefing for the press in Washington, a high State Department official discussed the Berlin situation. He summed it up this way: "In the end, this is the reason for war."

Last week in Manila, Gen. Douglas MacArthur considered the world situation. The "two great illusions" threatening world peace today, he said, are that both the United States and Russia believe the other is preparing to attack.

"Both are wrong," the general went on. "Each side, so far as the masses are concerned, is desirous of peace. Both dread war."

Modern warfare, he warned, contains the "germs of double suicide." Continued arms buildup could "ultimately precipitate a kind of spontaneous combustion."

"We are in a new era," he went on, "we must have new thoughts, new ideas, new concepts. We must have sufficient imagination and courage to translate the universal wish for peace . . . which is fast becoming a universal necessity . . . into actuality.

"And until then, at whatever cost or sacrifice, we must be fully prepared . . . lest we perish."

We're not "fully prepared" for war, at least the people aren't, General MacArthur. We haven't been told what cost or sacrifice is demanded. And where do we find the leaders with these "new ideas, new concepts"?

The newest idea we've heard, General, is that they're inventing a new neutron bomb which will kill all the people and leave all the buildings and landscape intact.

That's a nice, humane little gadget, General, no mess for the "victors" to clean up.

ANIMAL FARM IN THE ANTARCTIC

A goodly assortment of animals and insects were brought to the Antarctic and placed on rotating turntables to help scientists find out one of nature's deepest mysteries.

The mystery involves the so-called "biological clock." For nearly 50 years scientists have been trying ways to discover how birds and other animals navigate, how plants and animals seem to know the date by the length of the day and how even the smallest insects keep regular cycles of activity.

The Antarctic was chosen so as to reduce the possible influence of the earth's rotation. Scientists from the University of California have placed on turntables revolving at various speeds and in both directions hamsters, fruit flies, bean plants, fungi and bread molds.

Experts differ as to whether this cycle is dependent on outside influences or not. Whatever the reason for this amazing regularity in living things, it points to a supremely intelligent Creator. Thank the Lord for His goodness and show your gratitude by living up to His commandments.

Mother Not Only Cooking Bacon —She's Now Bring It Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

In more and more families mama helps bring home the bacon.

The number of U. S. working wives has hiked five million in 1940 to 13.6 million today, by 1970 will reach 20 million.

Government shorthand: "Operation Kiss" designates the program of the U. S. Bureau of Naval Weapons to improve its communication system. It stands for: "Keep it simple, stupid."

Did you know most people are inclined to drink milk more often when alone than at any other time?

Prosperity note: During their lifetime the babies born in America in 1960 will buy half a million pairs of shoes, 25 billion pounds of beef, 91 billion gallons of gas, 11 million new cars, 63 million suits and dresses, a million new homes—and heaven only knows how many aspirin tablets!

Our quotable notables: "An asylum for the sane would be empty in America." George Bernard Shaw.

The English long jeered at the U. S. passion for modern plumbing. But a recent survey showed the average British executive now takes a bath every day, and two if he is going out for the evening.

Many complain at the high cost of postage rates today, but in 1861 it cost $5 a half-ounce to send mail by the Pony Express.

Ever watch an ant and wonder how fast it can travel? If it is young, free of rheumatism and has a fast track, it should be able to go 12 feet a minute.

The eyes really are "windows of the soul." Two Yugoslav psychiatrists have found that the manner in which pupils of the eye respond to light betrays one's inner conflicts and anxieties.

Looking for a warm place to swim? Try the Persian Gulf, the world's hottest sea, where the water temperature is 96 degrees.

Responsibility doesn't necessarily shorten life. The average longevity of U. S. presidents no longer living was 68 years and 181 days. The record holder: Sturdy John Adams, who lasted 90 years and 247 days.

WISECRACK of the week: "Ah, for the good old days," sighs Walter Slezak, "when a member of the beat generation was a kid whose family had a woodshed!"

Does your dog have halitosis? If you're his best friend, tell him there is now on the market a special dentifrice for pooches to make their breath sweeter and their teeth brighter.

SCIENCE has learned how to make food from wood and, in effect, you can eat a tree. An edible cellulose made from wood fibers, filling but nonfattening, has been recognized by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration as fit for human consumption.

It was Henry David Thoreau who observed, "Man is rich in proportion to the number of things which he can afford to let alone."

Immigrants May Save America

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On this day, (July 4) a day dedicated to the premise that the American Flag is the symbol of freedom, I have found extremely little awareness of the privilege amongst people surrounding me.

On my street, only we have a flag displayed.

On my way to the lumber company on the Redwood Highway, some 12 miles, I saw only three flags flying, one on a home, one at a restaurant, and one on a service station. Many other public or semi-public places were open, but none displayed a flag.

Arriving at the lumber company, proudly displaying a sign that they are open from 7 to 7 daily, every day, I found no flag. Being somewhat disturbed about the complacency around me in what is without any purple aggeration, dangerous times, I inquired of the persons taking my money for somewhat inferior wood, why there was no flag. The answer was:

(a) Did I think that it was necessary to fly one.

(b) Was I peddling a flag, or what.

(c) If I gave them one, and if it pleased me, they would fly one, just so a customer can be pleased and buy more.

I retorted that if they were not proud enough, it would be somewhat hypocritical.

Your attempt to have people flag conscious, is commendable. We have one of your flags in fact. But there is a great deal more to this flag business than just flying one, as you have tried to teach.

What those people at that lumber company did not stop to consider, and what the rest of the persons at stores and restaurants, and service stations did not stop to consider, is that they WERE OPEN on Independence Day. They were FREE TO SELL, SERVE OR REST.

Did it not perhaps strike them that in Cuba, Russia, its satellites, other dictatorships, that on THEIR so-called independence days, everyone had to be out waving flags, parading, or yelling, OR ELSE. No one there could be open selling; no one there could afford to be as indifferent or as insulting to the flag as the lumber people, and get away with it; no one there could be out on the lakes, picnicing on the ample park facilities. They would all have had to be out, cheering and flag waving OR ELSE.

To be blunt, we are too damned complacent.

Unless we smarten up, and give as much true thought to what that flag symbolizes, and as much dedication to the freedom that it stands for, we will be out on another independence day, OR ELSE. It is those peoples who BELIEVE ENOUGH who will win this war of the ideologies — and today we show a very poor example.

Freedom Riders, hate busses, tractor fiascos, and people who think flag flying is sort of, well, like talking about God at a dinner party. What possible hope do we have of capturing the world's imagination, leading their emotions to free ways, showing the Communists that Freedom is an entity, not just a word.

None, I say, until we get off our fat, well fed fannies, and be unashamed of being American.

But there is hope. If enough of we immigrants come, perhaps we can save America.

Rezoning Shows Need For A City

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Marin Board of Supervisors this week (July 4), by the usual 3 to 2 vote, granted a petition to rezone three Tiburon lots from single family residential to duplex zoning. This action was taken in spite of the fact that over 40 letters were on file against the rezoning and only seven signatories were in favor of it.

Although he is not required to explain how he votes on any issue, and quite rightly can vote any way he wants to, Supervisor Walter Blair was courteous enough to do so. His answer was that the people who own the land have a vested interest in it, and should be able to do anything they want with it. Mr. Blair's answer disturbs us deeply for the implications of what we can expect on future rezonings to higher density. We wonder, for instance, if community zoning and the wishes of majorities count for nothing. And most of all we wonder where this leads us in relation to the Tiburon Peninsula Master Plan.

To us the supervisors' actions on this and past rezonings to duplex and multiple, point up the need at least to look into incorporation as the only way that we in Tiburon can control the area's orderly growth.

A member of the anti-incorporation group's directors stated recently at a meeting of the Little Reed Heights Property Owners that the major financial backers of the anti-incorporation movement included two of the Tiburon Peninsula's most influential developers, Fred Zelinsky and Sam Neider.

Responsible citizens should ask themselves why these gentlemen and others are so reluctant to have light shed on the issue of incorporation. Because no matter what is said when you sign the incorporation petitions now being circulated your are NOT, repeat NOT, voting to incorporate. All you are doing is asking that the matter be brought to a vote at a later date.

If enough signatures are recorded before July 11, incorporation will be voted on, probably in November. Between July and November the whole issue will have to be thrashed out in public with definite plans set forth showing where the money will come from, how it will be spent, etc. If you don't like the results then, you can express your feelings at the polls in November.

We urge Tiburon residents to let this whole issue be brought into the open by signing the petitions to bring it to a vote.

Mrs. Greville's butler, unfortunately, had been partaking very liberally of the cocktails and wines intended for the guests. Reluctant to make a scene, Mrs. G. handed him a note which said, "Leave the room at once. You are drunk."

Policeman Turns Rock Pile Into Garden, Garage Into Rock Pile

Living on the Street of the Good View in Mill Valley behind a giant princess flower, is Policeman John Imperiale.

John will nab you if you do wrong but, off duty, he is the stone polishing policeman, the skindiving, rock chasing, abalone-hunting cop. He's the man who knows an obsidian from a tuffa and an agate from a thunder egg.

In addition to this, John "makes" his own trees. He grafts them, crosses them, makes five kinds of apples grow on one tree. He makes limes in orange skins by crossing the lime with a tangerine. He also makes his own fish fertilizer.

ROCK HOUND John says "when the weather is too rough to go to the ocean, we head for the mountains and look for rocks. If the tides are for abalone, I'm in the ocean. I skin dive. My wife, too, wears a skin diver's suit, but she only wades.

"When it's raining and I can't get out in the garden, I polish and tumble."

John has machines which work with stones and rocks to cut, grind, polish, trim, tumble and slab.

He and his wife have collected volcanic rock from Glass Mountain near Mount Lassen, tuffa from Walker Lake, obsidian from the Oregon border, rainbow rock from Nevada, feather petrified wood which will float and opalized wood which is stone heavy and when tapped, gives off a ringing tone.

ON HIS GARAGE floor is a pile of thunder eggs which the policeman says may be a million years old. Some rocks are fossilized and show worms and shells turned to stone.

The Imperiales go to the beach, the desert, the mountains. In the desert they have with them two jugs of water and they make themselves at home.

"You meet some awfully nice people there," John said, "people who are down to earth, who love rock and earth and ground as I do."

In his garden, John showed us a pear tree with six varieties of pears grafted onto a quince tree root stock.

"I make my own trees," he said. On an apple tree he had grafted a Golden and a Red Delicious, Jonathan, Red Winesap and a Greening.

"I'll have apples from Aug. 1 to November," said John.

From Italy he has a new plant, an orange which is grafted to a lemon.

AFTER THE APPLES, we went through John's basement, seeing his mineral collection—a separate collection from rocks and stones.

There were fool's gold, copper, baronite, uranium, California jade and one rock with real gold in it. We asked about one shiny chunk of rock, if it had been polished and John replied, "I never did anything. The good Lord did it all."

John makes some jewelry from the stones he and his wife, Josephine, collect.

On parting John gave us a rainbow rock, a thunder egg, a green copper rock amongst other rocks.

John, we said, thanks for the rock and garden tour.

John said, looking toward his garden, "You know, when we bought this place it was nothing but a rock pile."

KHRUSHCHEV CAME to Wilton's Pet Supplies in Mill Valley and the Gay Pet Shop in San Rafael this week. He was in red, naturally, on a sign on a truck which delivers meat.

The sign, according to Harriet Wilton, reads "Fresh Horse Meat For Pets. And Khrushchev."

What Concession On West Berlin Can We Make To Appease Mr. K?

WASHINGTON—Is there a significant concession to make the Soviets which would satisfy Khrushchev over West Berlin and at the same time assure its freedom?

I think there is no concession which would keep the Kremlin from trying to pull Berlin behind the Iron Curtain. But since there are some who do think that a concession would stabilize the Berlin situation, their view ought to be examined and answered—not just dismissed.

THE CONCESSION most often suggested is that if the West would recognize the Soviet-forced division of Germany and accept as permanent Moscow's turning East Germany into a Soviet-Communist satellite, then Khrushchev could be expected to negotiate new guarantees to respect Western rights of access to West Berlin—and to abide by them.

What single piece of experience have we to suggest that if we concede title to the Soviet Union or to Red China to countries they have already rolled over, they will cease their efforts to extend their conquests?

After the Soviet Communists appropriated Latvia, Estonia, and Lithuania, did this deter them from creating Moscow-ruled puppet governments in Poland, Hungary, Roumania, and Czechoslovakia?

AFTER FRANCE and Britain conceded North Vietnam to the Chinese Communists, did this deter Moscow and Peking from launching their attack on Laos? And does anyone believe that after liquidating the independence of Laos—if they do—that this will deter them from attempting to overthrow the government of South Vietnam?

Is there any reason whatsoever to believe that if we recognize Soviet "rights" to rule East Germany that Khrushchev will then respect Western rights in West Berlin—and consider the issue closed?

Has appeasement ever worked? And I am not using appeasement as an epithet but to describe a good-faith effort to achieve stability of frontiers between the Communist world and the free world.

The fact is that the Communists do not want, do not accept, do not believe in, do not respect stability of frontiers between a Communist country and a non-Communist country.

FURTHER, the Communists do not accept and do not respect the validity of any frontier anywhere because they do not accept and do not respect the right of any non-Communist government to exist anywhere in the world.

It won't work because the Communists by their very claim to universal rule will never be appeased until there is nothing left to appease with. The Communists are not seeking a balance of power; they are seeking total power.

If Khrushchev deems West Berlin "a bone in his throat," why should we pluck it out? Why not leave it there?

The dignified London Tatler describes an anguished moment at a great dinner given by socialite Mrs. Ronnie Greville for the foreign secretary, Sir Austen Chamberlain and his wife.

Mrs. Greville's butler, unfortunately, had been partaking very liberally of the cocktails and wines intended for the guests. Reluctant to make a scene, Mrs. G. handed him a note which said, "Leave the room at once. You are drunk."

The butler nodded gravely, and promptly handed the note, on a salver, to Lady Chamberlain.

Confided a father to his son., "Disregard your mother's story of how I won her hand in marriage, my boy. The fact is she proposed to me four times . . . and I have the scars to prove it."

Policeman Turns Rock Pile Into Garden, Garage Into Rock Pile

Living on the Street of the Good View in Mill Valley behind a giant princess flower, is Policeman John Imperiale.

John will nab you if you do wrong but, off duty, he is the stone polishing policeman, the skindiving, rock chasing, abalone-hunting cop. He's the man who knows an obsidian from a tuffa and an agate from a thunder egg.

In addition to this, John "makes" his own trees. He grafts them, crosses them, makes five kinds of apples grow on one tree. He makes limes in orange skins by crossing the lime with a tangerine. He also makes his own fish fertilizer.

ROCK HOUND John says "when the weather is too rough to go to the ocean, we head for the mountains and look for rocks. If the tides are for abalone, I'm in the ocean. I skin dive. My wife, too, wears a skin diver's suit, but she only wades.

"When it's raining and I can't get out in the garden, I polish and tumble."

John has machines which work with stones and rocks to cut, grind, polish, trim, tumble and slab.

He and his wife have collected volcanic rock from Glass Mountain near Mount Lassen, tuffa from Walker Lake, obsidian from the Oregon border, rainbow rock from Nevada, feather petrified wood which will float and opalized wood which is stone heavy and when tapped, gives off a ringing tone.

ON HIS GARAGE floor is a pile of thunder eggs which the policeman says may be a million years old. Some rocks are fossilized and show worms and shells turned to stone.

The Imperiales go to the beach, the desert, the mountains. In the desert they have with them two jugs of water and they make themselves at home.

"You meet some awfully nice people there," John said, "people who are down to earth, who love rock and earth and ground as I do."

In his garden, John showed us a pear tree with six varieties of pears grafted onto a quince tree root stock.

"I make my own trees," he said. On an apple tree he had grafted a Golden and a Red Delicious, J o n a t h a n, Red Winesap and a Greening.

"I'll have apples from Aug. 1 to November," said John.

From Italy he has a new plant, an orange which is grafted to a lemon.

AFTER THE APPLES, we went through John's basement, seeing his mineral collection—a separate collection from rocks and stones.

There were fool's gold, copper, baronite, uranium, California jade and one rock with real gold in it. We asked about one shiny chunk of rock, if it had been polished and John replied, "I never did anything. The good Lord did it all."

John makes some jewelry from the stones he and his wife, Josephine, collect.

On parting John gave us a rainbow rock, a thunder egg, a green copper rock amongst other rocks.

John, we said, thanks for the rock and garden tour.

John said, looking toward his garden, "You know, when we bought this place it was nothing but a rock pile."

KHRUSHCHEV CAME to Wilton's Pet Supplies in Mill Valley and the Gay Pet Shop in San Rafael this week. He was in red, naturally, on a sign on a truck which delivers meat.

The sign, according to Harriet Wilton, reads "Fresh Horse Meat For Pets. And Khrushchev."

What Concession On West Berlin Can We Make To Appease Mr. K?

WASHINGTON—Is there a significant concession to make the Soviets which would satisfy Khrushchev over West Berlin and at the same time assure its freedom?

I think there is no concession which would keep the Kremlin from trying to pull Berlin behind the Iron Curtain. But since there are some who do think that a concession would stabilize the Berlin situation, their view ought to be examined and answered —not just dismissed.

THE CONCESSION most often suggested is that if the West would recognize the Soviet-forced division of Germany and accept as permanent Moscow's turning East Germany into a Soviet-Communist satellite, then Khrushchev could be expected to negotiate new guarantees to respect Western rights of access to West Berlin—and to abide by them.

What single piece of experience have we to suggest that if we concede title to the Soviet Union or to Red China to countries they have already rolled over, they will cease their efforts to extend their conquests?

After the Soviet Communists appropriated Latvia, Estonia, and Lithuania, did this deter them from creating Moscow-ruled puppet governments in Poland, Hungary, Roumania, a n d Czechoslovakia?

AFTER FRANCE and Britain conceded North Vietnam to the Chinese Communists, did this deter Moscow and Peking from launching their attack on Laos? And does anyone believe that after liquidating the independence of Laos—if they do—that this will deter them from attempting to overthrow the government of South Vietnam?

Is there any reason whatsoever to believe that if we recognize Soviet "rights" to rule E a s t Germany that Khrushchev will then respect Western rights in West Berlin—and consider the issue closed?

Has appeasement ever worked? And I am not using appeasement as an epithet but to describe a good-faith effort to achieve stability of frontiers between the Communist world and the free world.

The fact is that the Communists do not want, do not accept, do not believe in, do not respect stability of frontiers between a Communist country and a non-Communist country.

FURTHER, the Communists do not accept and do not respect the validity of any frontier anywhere because they do not accept and do not respect the right of any non-Communist government to exist anywhere in the world.

It won't work because the Communists by their very claim to universal rule will never be appeased until there is nothing left to appease with. The Communists are not seeking a balance of power; they are seeking total power.

If Khrushchev deems West Berlin "a bone in his throat," why should we pluck it out? Why not leave it there?

AXIS SALLY RELEASED—Mildred Gillars (left), "Axis Sally" of World War II, is greeted today by her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nieminen, Ashtabula, Ohio, after Miss Gillars' release from Alderson, W. Va., federal prison. She served 12 years on a treason conviction. (AP Wirephoto)

'Axis Sally' Turns Aside Questions In Quick Departure From Prison

ALDERSON, W. Va. (UPI) — Mildred E. Gillars bade a swift goodbye today to Alderson prison, where she spent more than 10 years for betraying her country as the "Axis Sally of World War II.

Miss Gillars sped off with relatives toward Ashtabula, Ohio, only two minutes after a prison official brought her to the front gate this morning.

"I don't feel like making much of a statement this morning," the attractively groomed woman told some 20 newsmen and photographers as she walked briskly toward a waiting car.

She did not show her 60 years and it was hard to tell whether her hair was blonde or gray.

Waiting to meet her in cool, foggy weather were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nieminen of Ashtabula. Mrs. Nieminen is a half sister of the Maine-born Miss Gillars.

Other than saying that she was going to Ashtabula, Miss Gillars turned aside all other questions—including the name or location of the convent where she is to work as a music teacher.

"I can't tell you that," she said smiling, when asked where she would work after a brief visit with her half-sister. The fact that she should take a job in a convent was disclosed by the U.S. Parole Board last spring when it granted her application for release from a 10 to 30 year sentence for treason.

This is the first time "Axis Sally" has been a free woman in her native land since the late 1920's, when she went to Europe after failing in a New York theatrical career and wound up broadcasting Nazi propaganda during the war.

Newsmen gathered at the gate of the federal reformatory for women near this small southern West Virginia town long before the earliest possible release time at 7 a.m.

MILDRED GILLARS
'Axis Sally' Free

At about 7:22 a prison car came into sight. Miss Gillars was seated beside guard Lt. Helen Thomas with whom she carried on an animated conversation.

Mr. and Mrs. Nieminen soon pushed their way through the crowd of newsmen and held a brief, almost tearful reunion with Miss Gillars.

Newsmen were restrained by a metal pole which blocks the driveway at a small guard house out of sight of the prison building.

Two minutes after she started walking toward her half-sister's car, Miss Gillars was driven away. She was photographed scores of times but had said almost nothing for a battery of microphones held out to her.

Her confinement here began Aug. 10, 1950.

Nina Kinsella, who retired as warden on June 30, said Miss Gillars had a "very good attitude" toward the prison's plan for rehabilitating the inmates.

The U.S. Parole board, when it announced the release, said only:

"A plan for community life has been developed by her and investigated by a federal official.

"This plan which consists of employment in a convent will meet her need for constructive activities."

Miss Gillars was born on Thanksgiving Day, 1900, in Portland, Me. After studying speech at Wesleyan, she spent a brief but futile fling at the footlights in New York.

After that she went to Europe and North Africa where she worked as a dress designer, artist's model, English teacher and finally as the star of the Berlin radio network—dubbed "Axis Sally" by the Allied Forces in Europe.

She was captured b army intelligence agents in Berlin in 1946 and promptly indicted on several counts of treason, but convicted on only one.

That conviction was based on a broadcast she did prior to D-Day. -She played the part of an American mother whose son was supposedly killed in an invasion of the continent.

At her trial, "Sally" contended she still was loyal to the United States.

Her attorneys contended she was under the "hypnotic influence" of Dr. Otto Koischewitz, a former professor at New York's Hunter College who got her the job spreading propaganda over the Nazi network.

Miss Gillars served about six years at Alderson with her Asian counterpart—"Tokyo Rose," Iva Toguir D'Adquino.

"Tokyo Rose" was released in 1956 after serving six years of a 10-year sentence.

The time spent in the prison, however, probably wasn't so hard for "Axis Sally."

Most of the inmates live in home-like brick "cottages," which house 30 inmates each. The inmates have small private bedrooms that are decorated to their own taste.

Russ 'Fishing Boats' Work At Mapping U.S. Coast Line

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A recent incident at sea off the coast of Nova Scotia has served to dramatize anew the unending intelligence gathering contest between the Soviet Union and the West.

For years the big maps and data display boards at various U.S. military headquarters have had colored pins and little flags stuck in them. These show the daily maneuvering of Russian surface vessels and submarines near North America—but in international waters.

The ships—trawlers, tugs and larger types—engage in fishing off the grand banks. They also do scientific research on the Gulf Stream and the upper air as the Russians say.

But their antics, and U.S. Navy photographs, show that they also double in electronic eavesdropping, mapping and gathering of data about possible missile targets and other military enterprises.

Not much has been said about these activities since Robert S. McNamara became defense secretary and clamped down on certain types of information. But they were called to new attention by the Nova Scotia episode.

According to the Canadian Navy, a Russian trawler changed course to pick up a buoy used in exercises for submarine detection. The "sonobuoy" was about 100 miles off the coast. The Canadians said it contained microfilm and a small radio transmitter, but nothing secret.

Simultaneously with the Nava Scotia incident, a foremost navy authority was asked about the Soviet trawlers' operations. In Boston, Vice Admiral John T. Hayward, deputy chief of naval operations, said the Russians had equipment in their vessels which "makes it clear to the least technically minded that they are here also for other purposes" than fishing.

He said, among other things, that trawlers and at least one submarine were mapping the New England coastal waters.

Other authorities pointed out that the Russians are highly advanced in oceanographic work. By studying the ocean bottom off the North American coasts, particularly in the northeastern areas, they could make valuable maps with reference points for pinpoint missile launchings from submarines against industrial targets.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, retiring chief of naval operations, recently told congress that Russia had the largest and most modern fishing fleet in the world which affords a means of collecting maritime and oceanographic information.

He also said the Soviet Academy of Sciences had 85 oceanographic ships compared with America's 50.

Russ Will Face Allied Might In Any Moves Against Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Lauris Norstad has warned that the Soviet Union will have to face the might of the entire Western alliance if the Russians make any serious move against Berlin.

Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, said it would be inconceivable to him that "there could be any real action in Berlin that would not involve the alliance as a whole."

He said that while the legal responsibility for the defense of Berlin rests with the United States, Brtain and France, other NATO members were bound by treaty to come to their aid.

The NATO commander made the statements at a closed hearing of the House Foreign Affairs Committee on June 13. A censored transcript of his testimony was made public last night.

Other developments included:

Sen. Wayne Morse, (D-Ore.), said Russia and the Western allies were likely to go to war over Berlin unless smaller nations demand a role in settling the dispute. He said the Berlin issue should be placed before the United Nations which in turn could hand it to the world court.

Sen. John G. Tower, (R-Tex.), appearing on a TV program with Morse, rejected the idea of letting the United Nations settle the issue. He said there was no U.N. machinery to enforce its decisions.

Sen. Hugh Scott, (R-Pa.), said President Kennedy need have no worry "about the unified support of the Republican party" if he stands firm on Berlin. He also said the West should keep pushing for free elections in Berlin.

Sen. Clifford Case, (R-N. J.), questioned whether Kennedy had gone far enough in preparing the nation to meet such situations as Berlin where force short of nuclear power might come into play. He indicated he favored a bigger buildup of conventional arms.

Clearance of Norstad's statements on Berlin appeared to point up U. S. determination to inform Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in no uncertain terms that the west will not allow the city's non-Communist sectors to fall behind the Iron Curtain.

Norstad declined to say he was content with readiness of the troops at his command. However, he said "they are a factor that I am sure Mr. Khrushchev thinks about when he is considering Berlin."

A.L. Power Boys Favored In All-Star Game Tomorrow

The National League was cheered today by the news that Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's hard hitting third baseman, would be available for duty against the American League in tomorrow's 30th All-Star game, second in California and first in San Francisco.

It was feared that Mathews might be forced to pass up the spectacle because of a knee injury sustained in a collision with Los Angeles' Daryl Spencer last week. The big slugger returned to the Braves' lineup Sunday and assured N. L. Manager Danny Murtaugh he would be ready to play.

A capacity crowd of more than 42,000 was expected to attend the first of this year's two All-Star games, which will be televised nationally at 1 p.m. The second game will be played July 31 in Boston.

San Francisco fans were awaiting their first look at the American League sluggers, especially Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, the New York Yankees' home run twins.

It is mainly because of Maris (33 home runs), Mantle (29), and Detroit's Rocky Colavito (22) and Norm Cash (24), and the virtual certainty that Whitey Ford, New York's brilliant southpaw, will pitch the first three innings, that the American League has been made a 6 to 5 favorite. The A. L. was soundly beaten in both games last year and lost nine of the last 13 although it holds an over-all 16-13 edge.

Maris, Cash, Yankee shortstop Tony Kubek and switch-hitting Mantle, will bat from the left side of the plate. Consequently, it is believed that Murtaugh might open with southpaw Sandy Koufax, who has won 11 of 16 for the Dodgers. Ford won his 10th straight Saturday and owns a phenomenal 16-2 record.

Murtaugh can turn to two other left-handed starters, Mike McCormick of the Giants or Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's amazing 40-year-old, who has appeared in six previous games. It is highly possible h might surprise by starting Jo Jay, who registered his 12 victory for Cincinnati yeste day.

Maris will bat cleanup fo the American League, accor ing to the lineup Manager Pat Richards announced yesterda

John Temple, Cleveland sec ond baseman, will leadoff, fol lowed by first baseman Norm sh, Detroit; center fielder ntle, New York, Maris; left elder Rocky Colavito, Detroit; ortstop Tony Kubek, New ork; Catcher John Romano, leveland and Baltimore third seman Brooks Robinson.

Murtaugh has not announced is National League batting rder. But it was expected that odger shortstop Maury Wills ould lead off and Willie Mays, Giant center fielder, would bat in the number four slot.

A sellout crowd of about 44,000 was expected to see the classic make its bow in San Francisco. A second game is slated July 31 at Boston.

Last season, the first of the two games drew a capacity house of 30,619 in Kansas City. The re-match two days later brought only 38,362 in Yankee Stadium.

Vacation Welcomed By Dark After 'Great Mental Strain'

The San Francisco Giants, with the exception of those appearing in the All-Star game, opened a three-day break today and nobody was happier than Manager Alvin Dark

"The fellows and myself have been going through a terrific mental strain," Dark said the Giants split a double-header with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday to end a six-game losing streak. "It seemed like we were spending 24 hours a day in this park."

Dark will be a coach with the National League Stars tomorrow, and although he is one of the game's best golfers, he has no intention of getting in a couple of rounds during the break. He made this clear when asked of he planned to tee off with Paul Richards, manager of the American League Stars, who was expected to shoot some golf today.

"No, sir," Dark said. "If those guys can relax on a golf course now, I've gotta hand it to them. I'm not playing again till after the season."

WINNER AGAIN.

Then Alvin leaned back in his swivel chair, grinned wryly and said, "Gee it's great to be a winner. It looked like we'd never make it."

The Giants downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1, in the nightcap yesterday after losing the opener, 6-3 to make it a half-dozen losses in a row.

"I can't tell if we reached any turning point in that second game because it was not well played. "We had three errors and they had four."

Dark was concerned over the status of Mike McCormick, who told him that he has a sore arm.

"Maybe it is just a tired arm," Dark said. "Well, I'm not too sure of our rotation but I'm planning to start Sam Jones against the Phillies on Sunday. He is throwing very good again."

Jones, taking over in the seventh inning of the nightcap after Jack Sanford went out with a sore heel, gave up two hits in three frames and an unearned run.

Sanford, who also limited the Cards to a brace of singles, won his first game since May 22 while scoring one run and batting across another. He now is 4-5. The loss went to Ray Sadecki, a 20-year-old lefty who had mastered the Giants twice this season. His record is now 7-5.

Orlando Cepeda boosted his home run total to 24 by hitting solo blasts in each contest.

San Francisco blew a 3-1 lead in the opener which saw Dark being heaved out of a ball game for the first time as a manager.

Plate Umpire Shag Crawford did it after Dark protested that a called strike on Cepeda had been low enough to be a ball against some Card hitters.

MARICHAL BELTED

Mays crashed a two-run homer, his 23rd, in the third inning of the opener off lefty Curt Simmons to give San Francisco a 3-1 bulge. But they folded in the later stages as Ken Boyer and Carl Sawatski each belted a two-run homer at the expense of reliever Juan Marichal to spark a rally.

Boyer exploded his 12th in the eighth inning and Sawatski added nother in the ninth. Marichal's record slipped to 6-7 while Lindy McDaniel, who retired the last eight Giants he faced after being tagged for a single to open the seventh, recorded his fifth triumph. Billy O'Dell had started this game for the Giants.

HOME PLATE PILEUP—Mike Bresnan of the San Rafael Merchants crashes over Oakland catcher Ron Gaspar in first inning play of yesterday's State Semi-Pro Tournament semi-final in San Rafael. Bresnan was thrown out by third baseman Bill Serena, pictured in background. Oakland eliminated San Rafael by a 6-4 margin, went on to defeat the Humboldt Crabs of Eureka in last night's other semi-final, and will return to San Rafael tonight for a final showdown with the Eureka club, 8 o'clock. Three Stars Absent, S.R. Loses Tourney

Manager Al Endriss of the San Rafael Merchants today offered an "explanation to our fans" why three front line players were missing from the lineup yesterday as the Merchants lost a 6-4 decision to Oakland in the California State Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament in San Rafael.

The missing trio—third sacker Dan Renari, shortstop Don Murray and pitcher Dave Blasquez—failed to show, Endriss explained, "because they're also playing for teams in an East Bay Tournament. The tournament officials over there warned the three that they'd be suspended from East Bay competition for a year if they came to play with us instead of the other tournament. If we had our regular lineup," Endriss went on, "I'm certain we could have beaten Oakland."

Without the trio, the Merchants were severely handicapped, using a makeshift lineup that made five errors in the game with Oakland and was eliminated from the tournament.

EUREKA UPSET

Oakland then last night went on to upset previously-unbeaten Humboldt Crabs of Eureka, 4-3, to tie for first place. Oakland and Eureka clash at Albert Park in San Rafael at 8 o'clock tonight for the tournament's first half title. Winner then will play the winner of the second half, which is scheduled to start July 28, also in San Rafael.

Although he pitched nine innings in the East Bay League Saturday, Lou Profumo defied the "suspension" threat and fulfilled his obligation with San Rafael yesterday, pitching for the Merchants although he was pretty well worn out. The Oaklanders got to him for three runs in each of the third and fourth innings and San Rafael couldn't quite overcome this deficit. Ken Kimball relieved Profumo in the fourth.

MERCHANTS RALLY

The Merchants, who had scored a 1-0 lead in the first inning on an error, a walk and a single by Don Lauters scoring Rich Curry, rallied for three runs in the eighth on catcher Mike Bresnan's triple to right field, scoring Profumo, who had doubled, and Curry, who had walked. Bresnan scored the third run on a throwing error.

But Oakland's 6-4 lead held up.

San Rafael's makeshift lineup had veteran pitcher Kimball starting at second base, Lauters at short, Curry at third instead of his usual second base post and pitcher Jack Sovereign in the outfield.

Also, the Merchants could muster only four hits while 16 were striking out to Oakland ace Larry Williams.

In last night's feature the Oakland team, sponsored by Acme Carpets, scored the winning run over Eureka in the eighth inning when Bill Serena singled home Bill Lovato from second base. Lovato had singled and moved to second on Chuck Thompson's walk.

Oakland had taken a 3-0 lead in the first four frames, but Humboldt tied it up

'Clowns' Leave Big Tent; All-Stars Take Over For Real Three-Ringer

CONNOLLY

The circus has come to town. As a matter of fact, it has been here for a week. But now the clowns have left the arena and the principal performers take over.

Our clowns—the Giants—have been funny enough, but their antics have hardly been appreciated by Bay Area fans. Now we get a look at the 50 top men in the big tent of baseball. And if you are one of the lucky ticket holders, you're in for a genuine three-ringer.

It is always (or nearly so) a great show, with intra-league and personal animosities set aside for the day while the American and National Leaguers have at it in the annual All-Star game at Candlestick Park. A real die-or-dooer.

There are some lessons to be learned that overshadow the basic spectacle, and it is time for old Joe Fan to sit back and take stock of his emotions and his motives.

The head shrinkers tell us that the ball park is a great place for old Joe Fan to blow off his frustrations against his boss, wife, kids, job, the world, and HIMSELF. Could be. When you yell at the umpires, managers, players, opponents, or even your fellow fans, your neighbors just put you down as another filbert.

THEN ALONG comes an All-Star game, and everything becomes mellow. Sure, you'd like the Nationals to trounce the Americans, and you want your Giant representatives to be a little more spectacular than the visiting Pirates, Dodgers, et al. But it doesn't matter so much in this game.

When the Mantles, Berras, Fords and the rest take the field, you forget that they are Damn Yankees and give them the applause usually reserved for such local heroes as Orlando Cepeda, Willie Mays, et al. Win or lose, if the game is a good one, you can enjoy it.

And here is the secret of true sports enjoyment spelled out for you. Keep the league standings in the back of your head if you must, but ENJOY EACH GAME AS IT IS PLAYED, win or lose.

I HAVE a hunch that San Franciscans are never going to mature as fans until the Giants or 49ers win a championship. It is only a symbol, but once you have proved something you can learn to relax and take each game as it comes along.

There is a lesson in the All-Star game from players and managers, too. For one day they can watch and appreciate the play of every man regardless of the color of his skin, the name on his uniform, or his personality.

Even the best, and these ARE the best, can have an off day. There is a good chance that some player will turn up as the "goat" of the game. But that doesn't make him any smaller in stature. A manager can be reminded that a poor pitching job or any untimely error doesn't mean the guy is a bum.

THE ALL-STAR managers, Paul Richards and Danny Murtaugh, could have an off day, too. Both have had plenty of them this year after eminently successful seasons last year. They both want to win this one for the glory involved, but they have been around long enough to realize that someone wins and someone loses. Freshman managers, take note.

Although the All-Star game is an exhibition and a show, it is good to know that both teams are out to win. The managers have been instructed to play for keeps, even if it means leaving some of the players on the bench. That is as it should be.

One team will win and another will lose. But there are two sure fire winners in this contest. You, and the Bay Area. Have fun. But don't forget to bring your new philosophy to the park later on this week when the wars resume. We need it.

All-Star Classic A Substitute For World Series For Giants' Rooters

By JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Tomorrow at Candlestick Park. Bay Area fans, Giant rooters, or just plain and ordinary baseball fans (42,500 of 'em) will see National and American League all-stars perform. And you'll have to swap it for the World Series of 1961.

The All-Star game may not pack the same punch for the fans as World Series competition; it's only an exhibition game in which the players donate their services for the pension fund for old and indigent ball players.

Every Giant rooter expected our ball club to make a run for the flag this year. The club did for awhile but like all other clubs since 1959, it folded in the middle and is now sliding down the soapy chutes — where it'll stop, nobody knows.

The All-Star game while it has a greater array of talent than a World Series, is truly an individual contest wherein everybody goes "all out" for himself and to hell with team effort.

PLAYERS VOTE

The makeup of the All-Star cast is one of its most potent factors because the ball players themselves vote for the eight best players. There can be no cry of favoritism here, outside of the beef of Jimmy Piersall and other "also-rans" in the voting.

Piersall, so the writing boys say, has become a frightening example of eccentricity. His batting average of .240 is offset by his sometime foolish antics.

A manager of an All Star team has a right to pick and choose those players who "run out of the money," as Piersall did.

Paul Richards, manager of the Baltimore Orioles, who is subbing for the retired Casey Stengel, and Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh, boss of the 1960 world champion, are free to do as they wish with the players picked for tomorrow's contest.

Substitution of players runs high in this All-Star game because the managers, while wanting to win, prefer to give all the selected players an opportunity to perform.

To this observer, the significance of an All-Star game is enlightening. It should show which league, the American or the National, has the better hitting or the betting pitching.

No northern California rooter has to go far to learn that the National League has better pitching than the American League. If there is any doubt, just drop out to Candlestick Park and ask Harvey Kuenn, the Giant, who came here from the American League as a rootin-tootin' slugger.

Harvey knows, and is pretty definite about it when he says N.L. pitching is much better than the A.L. And he adds, "Every National League club has three or four good pitchers, while the American League is lucky to have one or two, in most cases."

HOME RUN ARTISTS

So if Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Rocky Colavito, Norman Cash, Jim Gentile and other home-run artists want any confirmation of what Kuenn says, let them have a fireside chat with the once mighty American League slugger, now fighting desperately to keep from drowning with so many other .260 National League batters.

Aside from hitting and pitching, the fielding of both leagues is pretty much the same. The best infielders, in my estimation, are "cream puff" batters. It is that way in the N.L. and doubly so in the A.L.

Speed is like writing poetry —you either can or you can't. There is no way of developing speed. It's a God-given gift.

The wealth of playing material in an All-Star game makes the contest worth while. Everybody who has a ticket should get out to the park early and watch the batting practice of the two clubs. There you will see for yourself what cooks.

The finest tribute to the ballplayers is the picks in this All-Star game. No one can doubt the sincerity of their picks and the choice of Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays gives the Giants a tremendous compliment. We know and think they are good but the players on the other seven clubs know it too—hence their presence on the roster.

If you haven't a ticket to the game, turn on your TV and wave and yell as the National Leaguers sweep to victory — I hope.

Heavyweights To Collide In S.F. Bout

SAN FRANCISCO—Two former California state heavyweight champions, Jack Johnson of Los Angeles, and Roger Rischer of San Francisco, will be featured in Promoter Lou Thomas' ten-round main event tonight in Kezar Pavilion.

Fans consider the fight an even affair between the big fellows, who both weigh over 200 pounds.

On a winning streak, Johnson just handed George Logan a pasting in Boise, Idaho. Prior to that triumph he beat German heavyweight, Willi Besmanoff.

Unable to get anyone to fight him, Rischer has been forced into idleness during the past year. However, he has been training steadily.

This, incidentally, will be the second fight between Rischer and Johnson. Roger won the state crown by outpointing Johnson in a 12-rounder in Los Angeles.

Palmer Fires 71, But Trails By 5 Strokes

BIRKDALE, Eng. (UPI)—Southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand, who turned pro only recently, broke the Birkdale course record with a six-under par 66 in the first qualifying roundof the British Open Golf Championship today while top U. S. hopefuls Arnold Palmer and Frank Stranahan each had a 71.

Stranahan, former British Amateur Champion from Toledo, Ohio, also shot his opening round on the Birkdale course while Palmer, runner-up last year and a heavy title favorite this year, complied his 71 on the Hillside Course, also par 72 but slightly easier.

The field will be trimmed to the low 100 and ties at the end of tomorrow's second qualifying round, in which players will switch courses.

Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., had a 34-37 for his 71.

While Palmer and Stranahan seemed certain to qualify easily, the future was not as clear for some of the 12 other American entries.

Fifty-year-old Errie Ball of Oak Park, Ill., and Tucson, Ariz., shot a 39-38—77 at Birkdale, becoming a borderline case.

Paul Runyan, 52-year-old La Jolla, Calif., pro who won the world senior title last Saturday, shot a 38-36—74 at Hillside.

Masters champion Gary Player had not finished his qualifying round by press time.

Hub Softballers Sweep Two Games

Behind the brilliant pitching of Lou Perazzo and Jay Leatherwood, Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo swept a softball doubleheader from Alameda Merchants Saturday night on the losers' diamond. The scores were 3-2 and 4-1.

Three-run rallies in the sixth inning of the first game and the first inning of the second contest highlighted the Sohner wins.

Ken Cuneo triggered San Anselmo's opening game rally with a lead-off bunt single and Leatherwood, Dick Steinhart and Ed Schulze followed with key hits to score the three winning runs.

In contrast to the first game, the Treemen wasted little time in getting on the scoreboard in the nightcap as they tallied three times in the first inning on a walk, an error, and singles by Steinhart and Ron Jerome and then held on for the 4-1 margin.

A.L. Power Boys Favored In All-Star Game Tomorrow

The National League was cheered today by the news that Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's hard hitting third baseman, would be available for duty against the American League in tomorrow's 30th All-Star game, second in California and first in San Francisco.

It was feared that Mathews might be forced to pass up the spectacle because of a knee injury sustained in a collision with Los Angeles' Daryl Spencer last week. The big slugger returned to the Braves' lineup Sunday and assured N. L. Manager Danny Murtaugh he would be ready to play.

A capacity crowd of more than 42,000 was expected to attend the first of this year's two All-Star games, which will be televised nationally at 1 p.m. The second game will be played July 31 in Boston.

San Francisco fans were awaiting their first look at the American League sluggers, especially Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, the New York Yankees' home run twins.

It is mainly because of Maris (33 home runs), Mantle (29), and Detroit's Rocky Colavito (22) and Norm Cash (24), and the virtual certainty that Whitey Ford, New York's brilliant southpaw, will pitch the first three innings, that the American League has been made a 6 to 5 favorite. The A. L. was soundly beaten in both games last year and lost nine of the last 13 although it holds an over-all 16-13 edge.

Maris, Cash, Yankee shortstop Tony Kubek and switch-hitting Mantle, will bat from the left side of the plate. Consequently, it is believed that Murtaugh might open with southpaw Sandy Koufax, who has won 11 of 16 for the Dodgers. Ford won his 10th straight Saturday and owns a phenomenal 16-2 record.

Murtaugh can turn to two other left-handed starters, Mike McCormick of the Giants or Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's amazing 40-year-old, who has appeared in six previous games. It is highly possible h might surprise by starting Jo Jay, who registered his 12 victory for Cincinnati yeste day.

Maris will bat cleanup fo the American League, accor ing to the lineup Manager Pat Richards announced yesterda

John Temple, Cleveland sec ond baseman, will leadoff, fol lowed by first baseman Norm sh, Detroit; center fielder ntle, New York, Maris; left elder Rocky Colavito, Detroit; ortstop Tony Kubek, New ork; Catcher John Romano, leveland and Baltimore third seman Brooks Robinson.

Murtaugh has not announced is National League batting rder. But it was expected that odger shortstop Maury Wills ould lead off and Willie Mays, Giant center fielder, would bat in the number four slot.

A sellout crowd of about 44,000 was expected to see the classic make its bow in San Francisco. A second game is slated July 31 at Boston.

Last season, the first of the two games drew a capacity house of 30,619 in Kansas City. The re-match two days later brought only 38,362 in Yankee Stadium.

Vacation Welcomed By Dark After 'Great Mental Strain'

The San Francisco Giants, with the exception of those appearing in the All-Star game, opened a three-day break today and nobody was happier than Manager Alvin Dark

"The fellows and myself have been going through a terrific mental strain," Dark said the Giants split a double-header with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday to end a six-game losing streak. "It seemed like we were spending 24 hours a day in this park."

Dark will be a coach with the National League Stars tomorrow, and although he is one of the game's best golfers, he has no intention of getting in a couple of rounds during the break. He made this clear when asked of he planned to tee off with Paul Richards, manager of the American League Stars, who was expected to shoot some golf today.

"No, sir," Dark said. "If those guys can relax on a golf course now, I've gotta hand it to them. I'm not playing again till after the season."

WINNER AGAIN.

Then Alvin leaned back in his swivel chair, grinned wryly and said, "Gee it's great to be a winner. It looked like we'd never make it."

The Giants downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1, in the nightcap yesterday after losing the opener, 6-3 to make it a half-dozen losses in a row.

"I can't tell if we reached any turning point in that second game because it was not well played. "We had three errors and they had four."

Dark was concerned over the status of Mike McCormick, who told him that he has a sore arm.

"Maybe it is just a tired arm," Dark said. "Well, I'm not too sure of our rotation but I'm planning to start Sam Jones against the Phillies on Sunday. He is throwing very good again."

Jones, taking over in the seventh inning of the nightcap after Jack Sanford went out with a sore heel, gave up two hits in three frames and an unearned run.

Sanford, who also limited the Cards to a brace of singles, won his first game since May 22 while scoring one run and batting across another. He now is 4-5. The loss went to Ray Sadecki, a 20-year-old lefty who had mastered the Giants twice this season. His record is now 7-5.

Orlando Cepeda boosted his home run total to 24 by hitting solo blasts in each contest.

San Francisco blew a 3-1 lead in the opener which saw Dark being heaved out of a ball game for the first time as a manager.

Plate Umpire Shag Crawford did it after Dark protested that a called strike on Cepeda had been low enough to be a ball against some Card hitters.

MARICHAL BELTED

Mays crashed a two-run homer, his 23rd, in the third inning of the opener off lefty Curt Simmons to give San Francisco a 3-1 bulge. But they folded in the later stages as Ken Boyer and Carl Sawatski each belted a two-run homer at the expense of reliever Juan Marichal to spark a rally.

Boyer exploded his 12th in the eighth inning and Sawatski added nother in the ninth. Marichal's record slipped to 6-7 while Lindy McDaniel, who retired the last eight Giants he faced after being tagged for a single to open the seventh, recorded his fifth triumph. Billy O'Dell had started this game for the Giants.

Harvey knows, and is pretty definite about it when he says N.L. pitching is much better than the A.L. And he adds, "Every National League club has three or four good pitchers, while the American League is lucky to have one or two, in most cases."

HOME RUN ARTISTS

So if Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris, Rocky Colavito, Norman Cash, Jim Gentile and other home-run artists want any confirmation of what Kuenn says, let them have a fireside chat with the once mighty American League slugger, now fighting desperately to keep from drowning with so many other .260 National League batters.

Aside from hitting and pitching, the fielding of both leagues is pretty much the same. The best infielders, in my estimation, are "cream puff" batters. It is that way in the N.L. and doubly so in the A.L.

Speed is like writing poetry —you either can or you can't. There is no way of developing speed. It's a God-given gift.

The wealth of playing material in an All-Star game makes the contest worth while. Everybody who has a ticket should get out to the park early and watch the batting practice of the two clubs. There you will see for yourself what cooks.

The finest tribute to the ballplayers is the picks in this All-Star game. No one can doubt the sincerity of their picks and the choice of Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays gives the Giants a tremendous compliment. We know and think they are good but the players on the other seven clubs know it too—hence their presence on the roster.

If you haven't a ticket to the game, turn on your TV and wave and yell as the National Leaguers sweep to victory — I hope.

Heavyweights To Collide In S.F. Bout

SAN FRANCISCO—Two former California state heavyweight champions, Jack Johnson of Los Angeles, and Roger Rischer of San Francisco, will be featured in Promoter Lou Thomas' ten-round main event tonight in Kezar Pavilion.

Fans consider the fight an even affair between the big fellows, who both weigh over 200 pounds.

On a winning streak, Johnson just handed George Logan a pasting in Boise, Idaho. Prior to that triumph he beat German heavyweight, Willi Besmanoff.

Unable to get anyone to fight him, Rischer has been forced into idleness during the past year. However, he has been training steadily.

This, incidentally, will be the second fight between Rischer and Johnson. Roger won the state crown by outpointing Johnson in a 12-rounder in Los Angeles.

Palmer Fires 71, But Trails By 5 Strokes

BIRKDALE, Eng. (UPI)—Southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand, who turned pro only recently, broke the Birkdale course record with a six-under par 66 in the first qualifying roundof the British Open Golf Championship today while top U. S. hopefuls Arnold Palmer and Frank Stranahan each had a 71.

Stranahan, former British Amateur Champion from Toledo, Ohio, also shot his opening round on the Birkdale course while Palmer, runner-up last year and a heavy title favorite this year, complied his 71 on the Hillside Course, also par 72 but slightly easier.

The field will be trimmed to the low 100 and ties at the end of tomorrow's second qualifying round, in which players will switch courses.

Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa., had a 34-37 for his 71.

While Palmer and Stranahan seemed certain to qualify easily, the future was not as clear for some of the 12 other American entries.

Fifty-year-old Errie Ball of Oak Park, Ill., and Tucson, Ariz., shot a 39-38—77 at Birkdale, becoming a borderline case.

Paul Runyan, 52-year-old La Jolla, Calif., pro who won the world senior title last Saturday, shot a 38-36—74 at Hillside.

Masters champion Gary Player had not finished his qualifying round by press time.

Hub Softballers Sweep Two Games

Behind the brilliant pitching of Lou Perazzo and Jay Leatherwood, Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo swept a softball doubleheader from Alameda Merchants Saturday night on the losers' diamond. The scores were 3-2 and 4-1.

Three-run rallies in the sixth inning of the first game and the first inning of the second contest highlighted the Sohner wins.

Ken Cuneo triggered San Anselmo's opening game rally with a lead-off bunt single and Leatherwood, Dick Steinhart and Ed Schulze followed with key hits to score the three winning runs.

In contrast to the first game, the Treemen wasted little time in getting on the scoreboard in the nightcap as they tallied three times in the first inning on a walk, an error and singles by Steinhart and Ron Jerome and then held on for the 4-1 margin.

Drysdale Called On Carpet After Run-In With Redlegs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frank Robinson didn't make the starting line-up for the All-Star game, but after his ups and downs against Los Angeles right-hander Don Drysdale there's no one to say he isn't the big gun for the Cincinnati Reds as they shoot for their first National League flag in 21 years.

Drysdale knocked Robinson down twice on two pitches and then plunked him on the arm with a third.

Net result: For Drysdale, a heave-ho out of the game and a possible stiffer fine or suspension, by N.L. President Warren Giles, after receiving an automatic $50 fine for a warning by umpire Dusty Boggess after the first knockdown.

For Robinson, seven runs on a pair of homers, a double and a single for a perfect 4-for-4.

For the Reds, a 14-3 victory and a five-game bulge over the second place Dodgers.

Third place Pittsburgh made it three straight over Milwaukee, by beating the Braves 5-4. San Francisco split a pair with St. Louis, the Giants losing 6-3, in the opener, before beating the Cards 6-1. The Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 9-8 and 8-5.

In the American, Detroit took two from Los Angeles, 1-0 and 6-3, and regained first place by one percentage point over New York. The Yankees split with Boston, winning 3-0 before losing 9-6. Baltimore thumped Kansas City 8-0; the Chicago White Sox swept Cleveland 7-5 and 9-8, and Minnesota defeated Washington 7-1.

Robinson hit the first of his homers against the Dodgers in the first inning off loser Roger Craig. His run-in with Drysdale came in the sixth, and he then tagged Dick Farrell for his second homer, in the eighth inning.

JAY THE WINNER

Gene Freese also homered while right-hander Joey Jay 12-4 checked the Dodgers on five hits, two of them home runs by John Roseboro and Charlie Neal.

A pair of homers by Walt Moryn drove in the Pirates' first three runs against Lew Burdette (9-6). Al McBean (2-0) was the winner in relief.

The Cubs overcame seven errors with 28 hits in their sweep over the last place Phils. Ed Bouchee hit two runs and Al Heist one backing Glen Bobbie (6-9) in the opener and reliever Dick Ellsworth (4-6) in the second game. Art Mahaffey (7-10) and Chris Short (2-6) were the losers.

A SHIRTSLEEVE AFTERNOON; AT CANDLESTICK?

San Francisco Giants' Candlestick Park is usually windy, frequently cold. But yesterday was one of the hottest days ever at the stadium as 30,441 fans turned out.

The temperature was in the 80s, the umpires worked without their jackets for the first time in the Giants' history here and the first aid station worked over-time.

Officials reported two nonfatal heart attacks and 95 cases of fans requiring assistance because of the heat.

Tempers got hot too. Alvin Dark got thrown out of the first game in the ninth inning, the first time he's gotten the heave-ho since he's been manager of the Giants.

The victory was Tiburon's seventh against a single setback, one of the best Pelican starts in years.

Brookman and infielder Ron Blum each drove across two runs. Vince Pallavicini had a triple for the winners, but was thrown out at the plate on a perfect relay while trying to stretch it into a homer.

Tom King, with relief from Fred DeMartini in the eighth and ninth innings, was the winning pitcher.

San Jose's three-runs came on a sixth inning homer by third baseman Bob Spillwell.

Tiburon Bops San Jose On Big Inning

A five-run outburst in the sixth inning, featuring John Brookman's bases - loaded double and a triple by Ken Anderson, sparked the Tiburon Pelicans to a 9-3 victory over the San Jose Merchants in semi-pro baseball at Tiburon.

The victory was Tiburon's seventh against a single setback, one of the best Pelican starts in years.

Brookman and infielder Ron Blum each drove across two runs. Vince Pallavicini had a triple for the winners, but was thrown out at the plate on a perfect relay while trying to stretch it into a homer.

Tom King, with relief from Fred DeMartini in the eighth and ninth innings, was the winning pitcher.

San Jose's three-runs came on a sixth inning homer by third baseman Bob Spillwell.

James Roosevelt Addresses Marin Audience Of 1,200

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

About 1,200 persons gathered in Kent Woodlands last night heard Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Los Angeles) pledge he will continue to fight to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Roosevelt's talk, sponsored by the Marin County Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, was followed by a preview of "Operation Correction," a film produced by ACLU.

The film, not yet officially approved by the ACLU board, is the organization's answer to the House Un-American Activities Committee film "Operation Abolition" on the San Francisco City Hall riots of May, 1960.

The ACLU film is the same as "Operation Abolition," but presents a "corrected narration" of events. The House committee distorted the facts, ACLU claims.

Last night's audience, which gathered at the Roger Kent Estate for the annual potluck dinner of the Marin chapter of ACLU, was asked after the film showing to give the organization its views on whether "Operation Correction" should be distributed.

Roosevelt urged his listeners to challenge their congressmen to take a "positive attitude" against the Un-American Activities Committee.

If the committee cannot be abolished, there are other steps that can be taken, the congressman said.

One of these is legislation prohibiting any committee from using things that belong to other people, giving the material congressional immunity, and then turning it over for someone else's private profit, Roosevelt declared.

He referred to the "Operation Abolition" film which was taken from newsreels, given immunity, then turned over to a private company for distribution.

Roosevelt said he also hoped legislation could be formulated to prevent a congressman from being immune for harm to a citizen he has attacked outside legislative halls.

According to the present law, a congressman is immune, even outside Congress, if he is talking about congressional or committee action, Roosevelt said. This permits him to say something derogatory about a citizen, and still have immunity.

Legislation to correct this would do a "tremendous amount" to tame the Un-American Activities Committee, the congressman said.

Roosevelt also said he hoped the "complete waste of funds" by the committee could be documented more fully. He cited as an example the publishing by the committee of material than "can be found in any public library."

An organization "with enough research power to document this" is needed, Roosevelt said.

The congressman, introduced by Milen Dempster, chairman of the Marin chapter, as a "staunch supporter of civil liberties issues," said one of the greatest problems of liberals today is to get a forum to give ideals, and ideas, to the mass of American people.

He warned that the United States can have no success in being a leader of free peoples of the world until it realizes the tremendous value these peoples place on individual rights.

The new administration needs to exercise the greatest leadership ever demanded . . . if we are to have any hope in the survival of the principles of freedom in the years ahead," Roosevelt declared.

The congressman said the wide distribution of the "Operation Abolition" film "has swayed more innocent people than we have any idea. To correct that, some kind of answering document is needed, he added.

Northern California, he said, was the only part of the country where factual information has been available to those interested in telling the truth about what took place at the San Francisco City Hall.

The ACLU film is narrated by Ernest Bessig, executive director of the Northern California chapter. He points out that ACLU and others disagree with the House committee's contention that the city hall riots were Communist-led.

The ACLU narration charges that the committee rearranged scenes filmed during the three-day committee hearing to prove that communist tactics were used. The editors of the film created a "false effect" by combining films of two demonstrations on different days, the ACLU narration states.

Bessig in his narration observes that the evidence points to brutality and violence on the part of police, rather than students.

Also described by ACLU are other "distorted" accounts of the demonstrations.

The film was produced by Sali Lieberman of Mill Valley, a member of the Marin County chapter of ACLU.

KISS FOR A QUEEN—Pamela Stettler of San Rafael, "Miss California" in the "Miss Universe" contest, gets a warm greeting from Dade County Commissioner Arthur H. Patten Jr. on her arrival at Miami Airport for the "Miss Universe" beauty pageant. He also presented her with a proclamation welcoming her to Miami. Pamela made the trip by National Airlines jet plane.

Miss Universe Contest Entries Arrive In Miami

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Picture taking and briefings were on tap here today for the 91 contestants from all over the world competing for the title of Miss Universe.

Ninety of the entries, in a variety of dress ranging from bathing suits to a parka, showed up last night in Miami's Bayfront Park for the pageant's opening ceremony. They presented gifts to Miami Mayor Robert King High and got white gold purses emblazoned with Miami seals in return.

The pageants, which end Saturday with the selection of Miss Universe, gets underway in earnest Wednesday with the selection of 15 semi-finalists in the race for Miss U.S.A.

Harassed pageant officials today worked to unravel a snarl over the credentials of the Cuban entry.

No entry appeared here from Fidel Castro's island republic, so Miami's Cuban exile colony whipped up an impromptu contest, named buxom Marta Vierta the winner, and sent her into the lists as "Miss Free Cuba."

Marta didn't get very far. Pageant officials told her she was lacking credentials proving her age (she says she is 25) and marital status (she says she is single). She was not on hand last night.

Pageant director Jerry Berger said a ruling on her eligibility would be made later this week.

An estimated 5,000 persons showed up in Bayfront Park bandshell to see the beauties in their first public appearance.

Miss South Dakota, Sharon Hoffman, stunning in a skin-tight purple swim suit, caught many eyes. She presented Mayor High with a balloon symbolic, she said, of her state's claim to the title "Balloon Capital of the World."

Miss Alaska, Judy Onstad, sweltering in a fur-lined parka, presented High with a flag. Gesturing toward her parka she said, "I'm hotter than anybody; it's 110 in here."

High got a model gondola from Miss Italy, Viviane Romano, and a fan from Miss Japan, Akemi Towama. He pleased the Latin entries by responding to their greetings in fluent Spanish.

Judy Garland Home

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Singing star Judy Garland returned to her rented summer home last night following a one day bout in Cape Cod Hospital with what was described as abdominal trouble.

Dr. Robert B. Watt, her physician, said Miss Garland's condition was "greatly improved." She underwent several diagnostic tests during the 24-hour stay, he said.

Skirt Hems Wider But Remain Short

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK—Watch the shape of skirts when you do your fall and winter clothes buying.

They are wider at the hemline than they've been in several seasons. They also are just as short as they have been all spring and summer; kneecaps are barely covered.

That width comes mostly from new flared shapes, which are New York designer versions of a silhouette the House of Dior featured in its spring and summer 1961 collection. The flare begins low, starting either from a lowslung waistline or at mid-thigh in daytime clothes. In long formals, the flare begins at the knee.

But designers also featured many pleated skirts beneath hip-length jackets or long overblouses in collections shown this week to visiting fashion reporters. Today began the first of a series of shows sponsored semi-annually by the New York Couture group and affiliated members.

NEW SKIRT LOOK

Approximately 250 reporters from the United States, Canada and Europe registered for the shows.

Disappearing is the oval-shaped skirt. The new clothes include slender-looking skirts spread into an easy-to-walk width by deep, unpressed panel folds at the front or sides. In party clothes, the skirts themselves hang straight to the hem, then finish off in a flurry of ruffles, tucks, or bands of fur.

Designers have not deserted the classic straight skirt which is a favorite with Mrs. John F. Kennedy. It shows beneath a dozen jacket variations. Favorite: the semi-fitted jacket, with sleeves ending just below the elbow, collar set far from the neck to leave space for chunky costume jewelry.

What designers have done to the waistline rates next in importance in the new fashions, said the couture group.

WAIST WANDERS

Actually, the waistline wanders all over the mid-section or is missing altogether. In some dresses, a wide panel defines the natural waist. In others, there is a fit through the midrift, but only a seam. No belt.

In still others, the waist is dropped three or four inches below normal, especially in the highly-popular overblouse silhouette for fall. In some instances, the dress is fitted to the front of the bodice only; the back swings free and flares out away from the figure. And, some designers haul the waistline high under the bosom.

The "watch for" roundup also included these trends:

—Watch for capes and cape effects, with short or long capes replacing jackets or coats in many costumes;

—Movie star furbelows, such as ostrich feathers, fur trims, fishtail trains, big brooches, deep cloches.

—Deep colors or green from spruce to evergreen, fruit from strawberry to plum, and brown from amber to walnut.

Mill Valleyans Busy With Summer Trips And Parties

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The W. H. Closes have just returned from their European tour with many interesting impressions to tell their friends.

They flew by jet to Paris on March 23, where they picked up the car they had shipped there, and with Susan Seymour, daughter of the Kent Seymours of Mill Valley, who had just completed her junior year on the Stanford campus at Tours, they set forth on a 10,000 mile trek through Europe.

Their itinerary included France, Italy, England, Scotland, Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

The Closes planned their tour to see as much as possible of the countryside rather than the usual points of interest in cities. A trip not often taken by tourists was one up the entire wild and rugged coast of western Scotland to Cape Wrath.

Surprising to them was the amount of forests and open country still left in England.

Small as their German car was—but ideal for narrow village streets — they said it seemed large compared to the Italian cars.

The Closes are now expecting Mrs. Close's sister, Mrs. Stewart Crosley (the former Beth Seymour) and her husband from Kingsport, Tenn., for a month's visit.

Mrs. Delmar Clinton entertained at a dinner party for 15 recently honoring her granddaughter, Helen McDill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. McDill of San Francisco, and Christopher Walker of Chicago, Ill., who were married this week at the McDill's home.

Just before, Mrs. Clinton had as her house guests for a week at Lake Tahoe Mrs. E. M. Shapiro and her daughter, Enid, and Mrs. Kenyon Spalding, all of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Hughes Call and her daughters, Phoebe and Eleanor, left Thursday for Washington, D.C. They will spend a month visiting Mrs. E. I. Lewis, who lives there and will then do some "college hunting" for Phoebe.

TIME OUT FOR A LESSON

Mrs. David Allen and her son Jim of Belvedere take a few minutes between sets at the Belvedere Tennis Club to get a demonstration of the proper grip by tennis pro Herb Clark, center, and his attractive assistant, Alexis Rice of Belvedere. The Allens are among the local residents seen frequently on the courts.

Skirt Hems Wider But Remain Short

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK—Watch the shape of skirts when you do your fall and winter clothes buying.

They are wider at the hemline than they've been in several seasons. They also are just as short as they have been all spring and summer; kneecaps are barely covered.

That width comes mostly from new flared shapes, which are New York designer versions of a silhouette the House of Dior featured in its spring and summer 1961 collection. The flare begins low, starting either from a lowslung waistline or at mid-thigh in daytime clothes. In long formals, the flare begins at the knee.

But designers also featured many pleated skirts beneath hip-length jackets or long overblouses in collections shown this week to visiting fashion reporters. Today began the first of a series of shows sponsored semi-annually by the New York Couture group and affiliated members.

NEW SKIRT LOOK

Approximately 250 reporters from the United States, Canada and Europe registered for the shows.

Disappearing is the oval-shaped skirt. The new clothes include slender-looking skirts spread into an easy-to-walk width by deep, unpressed panel folds at the front or sides. In party clothes, the skirts themselves hang straight to the hem, then finish off in a flurry of ruffles, tucks, or bands of fur.

Designers have not deserted the classic straight skirt which is a favorite with Mrs. John F. Kennedy. It shows beneath a dozen jacket variations. Favorite: the semi-fitted jacket, with sleeves ending just below the elbow, collar set far from the neck to leave space for chunky costume jewelry.

What designers have done to the waistline rates next in importance in the new fashions, said the couture group.

WAIST WANDERS

Actually, the waistline wanders all over the mid-section or is missing altogether. In some dresses, a wide panel defines the natural waist. In others, there is a fit through the midrift, but only a seam. No belt.

In still others, the waist is dropped three or four inches below normal, especially in the highly-popular overblouse silhouette for fall. In some instances, the dress is fitted to the front of the bodice only; the back swings free and flares out away from the figure. And, some designers haul the waistline high under the bosom.

The "watch for" roundup also included these trends:

—Watch for capes and cape effects, with short or long capes replacing jackets or coats in many costumes;

—Movie star furbelows, such as ostrich feathers, fur trims, fishtail trains, big brooches, deep cloches.

—Deep colors or green from spruce to evergreen, fruit from strawberry to plum, and brown from amber to walnut.

Mill Valleyans Busy With Summer Trips And Parties

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

The W. H. Closes have just returned from their European tour with many interesting impressions to tell their friends.

They flew by jet to Paris on March 23, where they picked up the car they had shipped there, and with Susan Seymour, daughter of the Kent Seymours of Mill Valley, who had just completed her junior year on the Stanford campus at Tours, they set forth on a 10,000 mile trek through Europe.

Their itinerary included France, Italy, England, Scotland, Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

The Closes planned their tour to see as much as possible of the countryside rather than the usual points of interest in cities. A trip not often taken by tourists was one up the entire wild and rugged coast of western Scotland to Cape Wrath.

Surprising to them was the amount of forests and open country still left in England.

Small as their German car was—but ideal for narrow village streets — they said it seemed large compared to the Italian cars.

The Closes are now expecting Mrs. Close's sister, Mrs. Stewart Crosley (the former Beth Seymour) and her husband from Kingsport, Tenn., for a month's visit.

Mrs. Delmar Clinton entertained at a dinner party for 15 recently honoring her granddaughter, Helen McDill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. McDill of San Francisco, and Christopher Walker of Chicago, Ill., who were married this week at the McDill's home.

Just before, Mrs. Clinton had as her house guests for a week at Lake Tahoe Mrs. E. M. Shapiro and her daughter, Enid, and Mrs. Kenyon Spalding, all of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Hughes Call and her daughters, Phoebe and Eleanor, left Thursday for Washington, D.C. They will spend a month visiting Mrs. E. I. Lewis, who lives there and will then do some "college hunting" for Phoebe.

New Purifier

An allergist helped to test a new purifier and now the firm that makes it says the appliance is 99.8 per cent effective against pollen. The unit is intended solely to provide relief for allergy sufferers. It will not cure or prevent allergies, the manufacturer cautioned.

Dance Awards Are Given To Students

Linda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Brown, won the award for dancer of the year given by Belrose Dance Studio at its recent public performance at San Rafael High School.

Other award winners were Vickie Hill, Gayle Abrams, Carol Wood, Linda Watson and Kendal Farrar, monthly trophy winners; Diane Blackford, Patti Colombo and Ken Vix, special award trophies. Other performers were given diplomas.

Teaching Children Rules Will Safeguard Them From Troubles

"My husband told me," a mother writes, "not to teach our children how to avoid sex offenders. He says the odds against them being molested are very great. He is afraid they'll get neurotic if I say anything. He has a point. One of the girls in our neighborhood runs in terror if a stranger so much as smiles at her. Is there a way to teach children to protect themselves, without making them too afraid?"

Yes, there is a way. The chances of your children being molested may be greater than your husband thinks. Experts say that fewer than one sex offense in ten is reported to the police. Even minor offenses may have very harmful effects.

You teach your children many things. You enforce rules covering all sorts of situations. Rules, for example, about staying out of the street. Or about bike riding. Or playing with matches. Your children know they should not lie or steal, or hit baby brother. Along with such rules you can teach them how to avoid sex offenders. The teaching need not shock them. Just be matter-of-fact yourself. If you get emotional, they will too. If you are calm, they'll be calm.

A majority of the sex offenses being committed against children this summer would be prevented if youngsters followed a few simple rules. Teach your children: Never to talk with strangers; never to accept gifts from strangers; never to get into cars with strangers; not to sit alone in theaters; not to play near places where sex deviates congregate; and always to report to you, to their teachers or to some reliable adult if anyone makes advances.

Gathering Method Can Make Your Skirt More Flattering

By EUNICE FARMER

"I can't find a pattern that has gathers in the skirt at the waist-line, and still has a bodice I like. Is there a way I can gather any skirt without a pattern?" Mrs. C. J.

Dear Mrs C J:

If you prefer a slight gathered effect instead of darts, simply eliminate the darts and gather this additional fabric. If you desire slightly more gathers, cut the skirt a little wider from the hip-line up to the waistline.

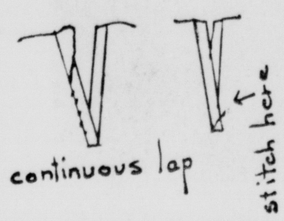
These gathers can be evenly distributed or divided, with half of them on each side of the center front. Experiment to see which are the most becoming to your figure before you permanently stitch them.

This type of skirt treatment is very flattering to many women and it still makes a very slim skirt because the extra fullness is from the waist to the hips only.

"When making a continuous lap or placket for my little girl's dresses, I either get a pucker at the end of them, or else a hole appears after one wearing. I can tell by looking at other dresses, that I'm not the only one who is at a loss as to what to do about this. Please help Mrs. C. C. S.

Dear Mrs. C. C. S.:

The remedy for this is very simple. To avoid a pucker at the end, you will not be able to catch in any extra fabric for added strength.



After the placket has been completed, fold it over as illustrated, and stitch the continuous folds together, at an angle. By doing this, the strain of putting the dress on and off, is stopped at this stitching point, and the end cannot pull out.

"I have a great many old neckties. Is there anything that can be made with them? Mrs. E. L.

If any of yiu "Sew Simple" fans have any suggestions to give Mrs. E. L., please send them on to me, so that I can in turn, put them in the column. There have been several requests for this.

Your sewing glossary: Continuous Lap.

This is actually a bound placket, and can be used as a closing in place of a zipper. It is also used on children's dresses as an opening below the waistline, or above the cuffs of men' shirts.

You can adjust a pattern to enlarge the hip measurement. Eunice Farmer tells you how in her booklet, "The Twenty Questions Most Frequently Asked." Obtain it by sending 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it to Eunice Farmer, in care of the Independent-Journal.

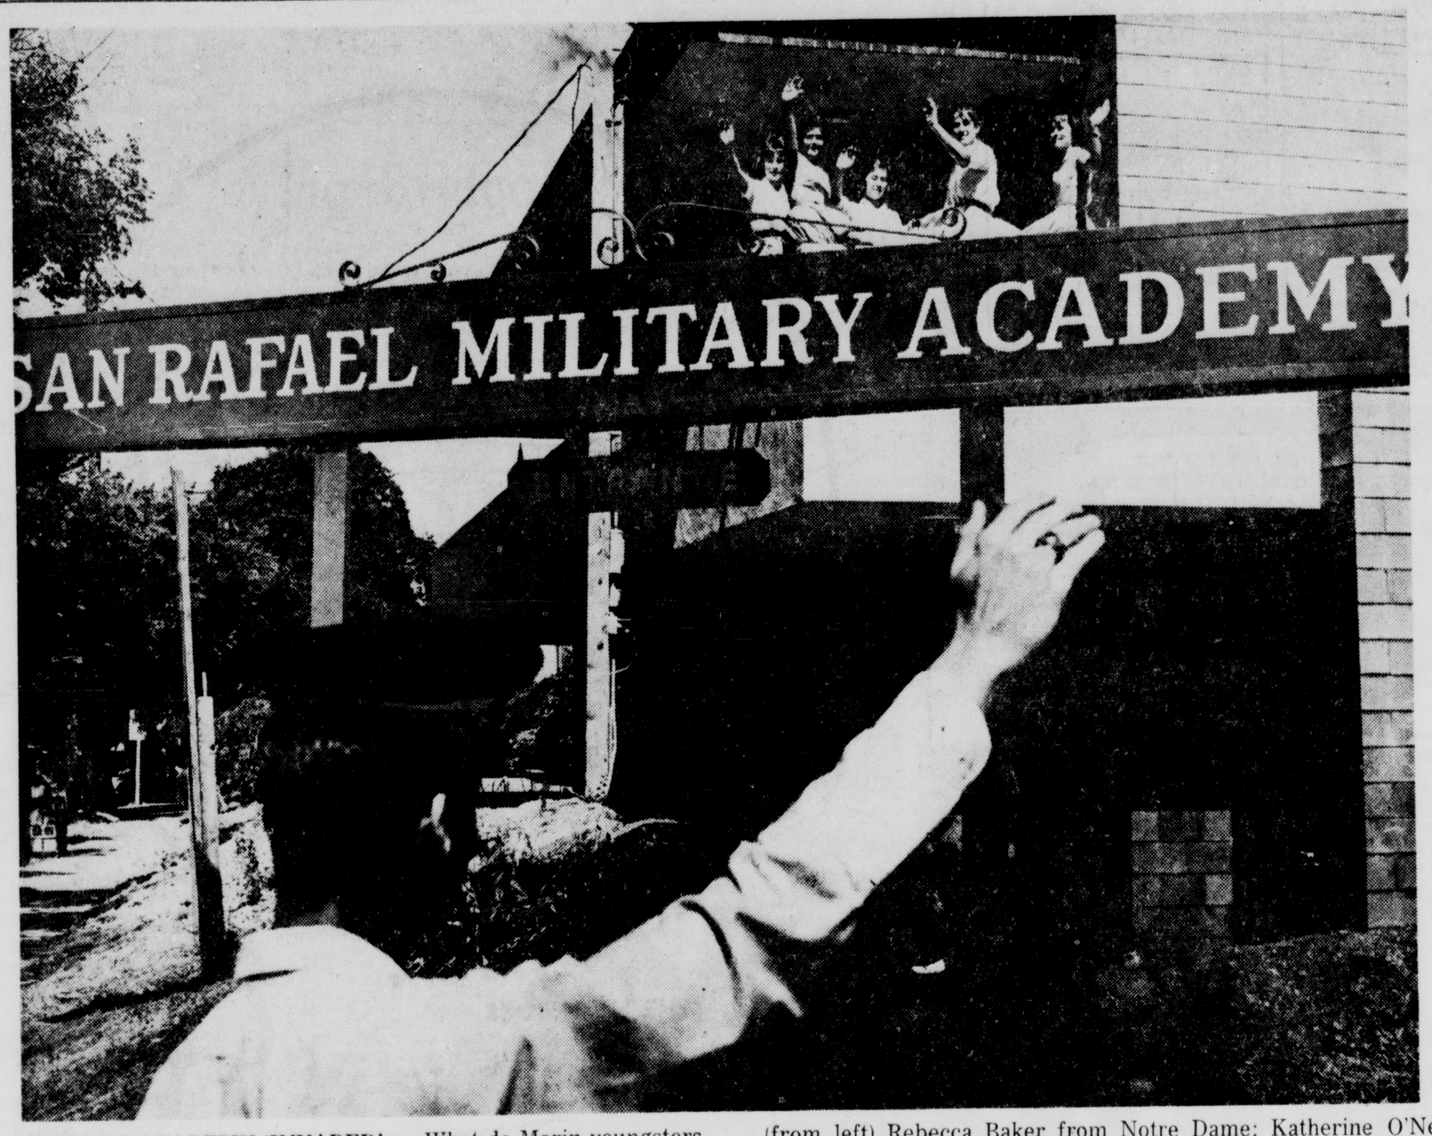
It's Busy Summer For Marin Children



MILITARY ACADEMY 'INVADED' — What do Marin youngsters do when school is out? A lot of them go to school — summer school. And at San Rafael Military Academy, girls trotted into classes this summer alongside the cadets for the first time in the school's history. None of the cadets made a move to halt the invasion. Shown occupying a commanding post on second floor are (from left) Rebecca Baker from Notre Dame; Katherine O'Neil from Sarah Dix Hamlin School in San Francisco; Susan Bauman of Katherine Branson and Elizabeth Cooper and Elizabeth Cutter, both from Dominican. Greeting them is Robert Hamann, senior at the academy.

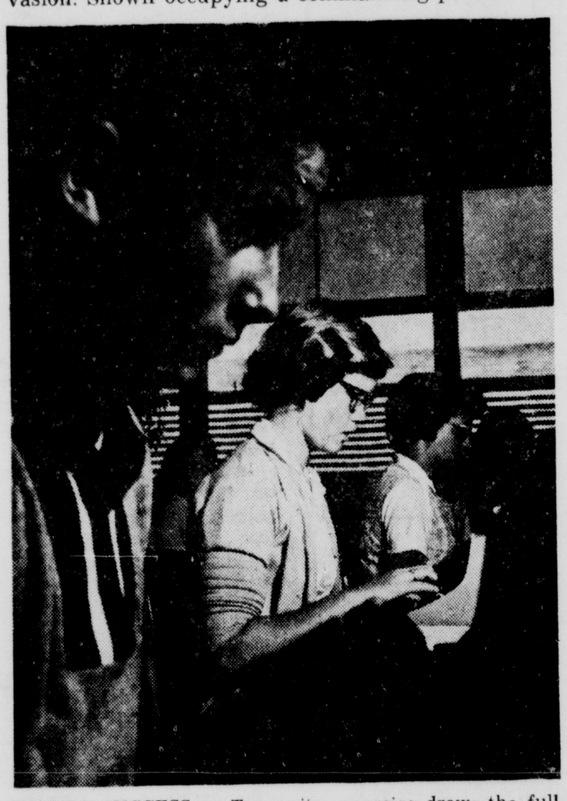
YOUNG ROBIN HOODS — Other youngsters take part in the varied recreation programs offered by city and district recreation departments during vacation. Here, at San Rafael's Albert Field, Jim Wahl, 12, of San Anselmo points to his arrow that just missed bull's-eye as other young bowmen crowd around. Keeping score is Dennis Sullivan, recreation supervisor.



KEY TO SUCCESS — Typewriter exercise draws the full attention of these future businessmen and women who are taking beginning typing at San Rafael summer school. Lynn MacFarland (center) seems to be mastering the touch system of typing.

DETERMINED RACKETEERS — Their main racket is to learn to slam that tennis ball both forehand and back. Learning the basics in Larkspur-Corte Madera summer recreation program are (from left) Bob Wunden, 13; Helene Collier, 10; Doug Collier, 11; Roger Smith, 9; Lauren Massoletti, 11, and Luana Lang, 11. Hands in foreground belong to instructor Hillard Witt.

CREATIVE HANDS — Kathryn Earhart and Peggy Griblin fashion prehistoric monster out of scraps of paper. They're members of summer crafts class at San Rafael's Davidson School.

BATTER'S UP! — Susan Lucia slams clean hit with help from instructor Hal Bush at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. Relaxed catcher is Clay Brandow, who looks as if he's praying the ball won't go for a homer.

CHOW TIME — Chief taster Ben Ostling (with spoon) and chef Mark Wallace (white cap) give stamp of approval to what summer cooking class concocted at Davidson School. Patti Colombo rechecks cook book to make sure all ingredients are included.

WATCH THAT TOE — Holly Ord, 11, takes careful aim with mallet at a tough croquet shot at Albert Field. Barney McDevitt, 11, covers ears in anticipation of the resounding crack. But Sammy Pillus, 5, apparently figures Holly is going to hit her toe.

How should you play this hand to make four hearts? Should you try a straight finesse or a roundabout swindle?

One method is to win the first trick with the ace of spades and lead a diamond to finesse the ten from your hand. If this finesse works, you be sure of two diamond tricks, enough for your contract.

Another method is run six trumps after winning the first spade trick. Then lead the king of diamonds and hope that the jack of diamonds will drop. Many an opponent will unguard the jack of diamonds under the impression this his spade or clubs are more valuable.

Either method may work. I would recommend the straight finesse against expert opponents, and the squeeze against weaker players. No guarantee goes with either attempt, but gives you a reasonable chance.

FUTILE PLAY

The one sure way to go down is to let the opponents in on your secrets. Lead a diamond from the dummy at the second trick and then go into a trance while you make up your mind whether or not to finesse the ten.

If you do this and then play the king of diamonds, the opponents will know just what they must save to defeat you. You will have neither the finesse nor the squeeze to help you.

Marin City Man Gets Jail For Drunk Driving

Twenty-eight-year-old Alsace R. Howard, who gave his address as General Delivery, Marin City, was given five days in jail and put on probation for six months by Municipal Court Judge Leonard A. Thomas Friday on conviction of drunken driving down the Waldo Grade July 2.

Howard was picked up by the California Highway Patrol after officers said his car hit the rear of a car driven by Mary White Rose of San Francisco.

Dear Alice,
Was I embarrassed showing your home the other day. One of the salesmen admiring your lagoon home from the patio, with his back to the water gradually stepped back and finally found enjoyment in a pleasant swim. It was a warm day however. His opinion was that your 3 bedroom home plus all the fine extras and recreation should sell close to your asking price of $26,500.

Dear Marty,
We now have four new homes ranging in price from $20,500. (Fairfax), to $29,500 (Greenbrae) To please the public, Gilder The Builder, chose choice oak studded mountain view sites throughout Marin. He emphasizes convenience, safety, and comfort. Of course Marty, the desirability is in the fact that they are not tract homes. For a sample—come by 485 Corte Madera Ave., Corte Madera, and see the possibilities for building on the lots that you own.

Dear Alice,
Was I embarrassed showing your home the other day. One of the salesmen admiring your lagoon home from the patio, with his back to the water gradually stepped back and finally found enjoyment in a pleasant swim. It was a warm day however. His opinion was that your 3 bedroom home plus all the fine extras and recreation should sell close to your asking price of $26,500.

Dear Marty,
We now have four new homes ranging in price from $20,500. (Fairfax), to $29,500 (Greenbrae) To please the public, Gilder The Builder, chose choice oak studded mountain view sites throughout Marin. He emphasizes convenience, safety, and comfort. Of course Marty, the desirability is in the fact that they are not tract homes. For a sample—come by 485 Corte Madera Ave., Corte Madera, and see the possibilities for building on the lots that you own.

Report Tonight On Sunny Hills

Status of attempts to acquire sites for an addition to Wade Thomas School and a new school on Sunny Hills property is to be reported at tonight's meeting of the San Anselmo School District board, at 8 p.m. in Isabel Cook School.

Both site acquisitions have been under fire. The Wade Thomas expansion would require demolition of five homes. Sunny Hills directors have claimed that taking 13.4 acres of flat land out of the heart of the orphanage property would doom continuance of the institution.

The 1961-62 budget, as revised for publication, is to be presented. Summer school reports are also on the agenda.

Job Awarded

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— The State Department of Public Works has awarded a $122,980 contract to Brown-Ely Co. Contractors, San Rafael, for grading and paving to relocate one mile of the Lucas Valley Road (FAS Road 1278) between .8 mile and 1.9 miles west of U.S. Highway 101, north of San Rafael.

Industrial Park Before Planners

The Novato Planning Commission will consider the tentative map of the first unit of the proposed 460-acre Hanna Industrial Park at 8 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

The first area proposed for subdivision is approximately 33 acres between the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks and Highway 101 near the Ignacio Wye.

The commission also has on its agenda applications from Joseph R. Filippo for a use permit and architectural supervision for a market on the East side of Highway 101 in the Ignacio area, between the Standard Oil service station and Meadow Park School.

Also on the agenda are a hearing on the cross roads master plan, covering the property in the northwest corner of the intersection of South Novato Boulevard and 101; the trailer court ordinance; application from Andrew Talbot to permit additional parking facilities for the Talbot Building in a one-family residence area.

Firemen Dance

The annual Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Dance will be held Oct. 14 at the Corinthian Yacht Club, it was decided at a recent meeting of the firemen's assn. Randolph J. Esplen is general chairman of the dance, which will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER — Vickie Sahagian, (center), has been awarded the Marin Shakespeare Festival scholarship of 1961. Miss Sahagian appears as the Amazon Queen in the festival's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" which opens Friday at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center. Harry Mack of Ross, (left), plays Philostrate; Harry Oltmans of San Francisco plays Egeus and Cliff H. Potter of Corte Madera, Theseus. This is a wedding scene.

Music Will Be The Star Of New 'Glenn Miller Time' Show Tonight

THERE'LL BE NO rock 'n' roll on the "Glenn Miller Time" series which debuts tonight (10 o'clock on KPIX) for a summerlong run.

If you are like us, just the titles of such wonderful songs as "Moonlight Serenade" and "In the Mood" suffice to plunge us into nostalgic memories of two decades plus ago when Miller recordings were the hottest things in the juke boxes.

The CBS network promises that music played on the new Monday night show will be in the finest Glenn Miller tradition. Serving as co-hosts will be two Miller proteges, singer Johnny Desmond and bandleader Ray McKinley who presently wields the baton for an organization which still plays under the banner of the Glenn Miller Orchestra. Vocalist Patty Clark and the Castle Sisters, a trio of singers, will also appear. But if the shows are properly planned, it will be the music itself which will be the star.

Definitely scheduled for tonight's premiere are the likes of the afore-mentioned "Moonlight Serenade" and "In the Mood," plus "Starry Night," "The Birth of the Blues," "Hey, Look Me Over," and "Serenade in Blue."

A COUPLE OF television shows to be seen during the next two evenings will feature Marin personalities.

Tonight at 8 o'clock on KQED, San Quentin Prison Warden Fred Dickson will be interviewed by James Day on "Kaleidoscope." Dickson was recently the subject of a most interesting "profile" in your Independent-Journal Marin Magazine.

Then tomorrow night on the nationally televised "PM West" show, seen here on KPIX starting at 12:15 a.m., Sausalito poet Gerd Stern will read from his own work to the bongo drum accompaniment of Jack Costanzo. Costanzo has taught Marlon Brando and other celebrities how to play the bongos.

THE MAJOR LEAGUE all-star baseball game from San Francisco's Candlestick Park will be on the air tomorrow starting at 12:45 p.m. on KRON. West Coast favorite Russ Hodges and the Eastern veteran Mel Allen will be the TV sportscasters. A 15-minute pre-game show will begin at 12:30 p.m.

OTHER recommended viewing:

Tonight — A one-hour report on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's visit to the Philippines, at 7:30 on KRON.

Tomorrow — "The Constant Protectors," a "Focus on America" documentary about the St. Louis police department, at 7 p.m. on KGO; cellist Pablo Casals in a half-hour of Bach's "Suite in G Major," at 7:30 on KPIX; a debate on the John Birch Society by an "Open End" panel composed of U.S. Sen. Gale McGee, seminarian Dr. John C. Bennett, and Birch Society council members Congressman John Rousselot and Thomas J. Anderson, at 8:30 on KQED; a two-hour concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra with Howard Barlow conducting, 9 o'clock on KTVU; a repeat of the "Playhouse 90" drama about strife in Algeria entitled "The Cruel Day" starring Van Heflin, Raymond Massey and Peter Lorre, 9:30 p.m. on KPIX; and an encore of the excellent "Project 20" special, "Those Ragtime Years," with Hoagy Carmichael and the music of 1900-1920, 10 p.m. on KRON.

Wednesday — A discussion of mentally disturbed children by the panel on the "Doctors News Conference program," 7:30 p.m. on KTVU; a repeat of the comedy with a Harlem setting, "Simply Heavenly," featuring Claudia McNeil and Earle Hyman, as the "Play of the Week" on KTVU at 8 o'clock; and another comedy, "Watching Out For Dulie," this one occurring in London and starring Larry Blyden and Shari Lewis, on the "U.S. Steel Hour," 10 o'clock on KPIX.

Scholarship Winner To Appear In Play

Vickie Sahagian, 24, of San Francisco has been named winner of the Marin Shakespeare Festival scholarship for 1961 by the festival's board of directors.

The $300 grant is to provide Miss Sahagian with experience in stagecraft and to enable her to be an actor-technician full time during the summer.

Other scholarship winners for the 1961 season will be announced as funds accrue and a full program of six actor-technicians grants is contemplated for next year, director John Brebner said.

Miss Sahagian plays Hyppolyta, Amazon queen, in the festival's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" opening at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center for a run of six weekends. She has had other theatrical experience in college and with community theater groups including work in "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Hamlet."

She speaks fluent Armenian and began acting at the age of seven in Armenian folk plays.

Tickets for the Marin Shakespeare Festival's inaugural production may be obtained at Orrick's Travel Bureau in San Anselmo or at the box office on performance nights. The play will run on Friday and Saturday nights through Aug. 19.

Planners To Study Trees, Fees And Signs

Trees, fees and signs that stand free will be taken up by the Corte Madera Planning Commission tonight — all referred to it by the town council.

The commission meets at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

An ordinance repealing the community facilities fee, an ordinance changing the permissible size of free-standing signs, and a proposed tree cutting and planting ordinance to replace the one rejected by the council July 3 will be studied by the planners.

The commission will also consider three items approved by the board of design: a Thom Mc An shoe store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, the balance of 34 apartments in Madera Valley Apartments, and an addition to Denny's House of Plumbing at 5726 Paradise Drive.

A tentative map for a planned unit development on 20.3 acres on the old quarry site off Highway 101 will also be considered. The plan was submitted by Scarco, Inc. of San Rafael. A report on it is due from Livingston and Blayney, town planning consultants.

Ex-Marinite In Research Program

H. E. (Ed) Cabaud, 17-year-old Sonoma Valley High School senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cabaud, former San Rafael residents, is attending University of California at Berkeley to participate in its High School Students' Research Program.

Young Cabaud will leave in August to attend school in Germany under The American Field Service program.

While at U.C., he will assist Dr. Jack Washburn, associate professor of metallurgy, with the growth and preparation of single crystal specimens that are being used for fundamental research on the mechanism of plastic deformation and fracture of crystaline materials.

Dance Date Set

The Belvedere Volunteer Firemen will plan their annual dance, to be held in August, at their meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the firehouse, according to president John A. Ericson.

BLIND FOR 43 YEARS...

SHE SEES AGAIN! Mrs. Violetta Nider, 50, a refugee from Yugoslavia, regained her sight last year . . . after being blind for 43 years! At a camp near Naples, she was examined and found operable. A month later in a Geneva Hospital, she could see completely from one eye, partially from the other. The miracle of sight had been restored!

The happy outcome was a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Catholic—all three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs that provide basic foods, clothing, shelter, jobs, education, tools and equipment—to the millions in need overseas.

Mrs. Nider's case is dramatic. A glass of milk for a hungry child can be dramatic, too! These programs must continue. They offer the only hope to millions. When you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember "blind" Mrs. Nider. Give generously!

Report Tonight On Sunny Hills

Status of attempts to acquire sites for an addition to Wade Thomas School and a new school on Sunny Hills property is to be reported at tonight's meeting of the San Anselmo School District board, at 8 p.m. in Isabel Cook School.

Both site acquisitions have been under fire. The Wade Thomas expansion would require demolition of five homes. Sunny Hills directors have claimed that taking 13.4 acres of flat land out of the heart of the orphanage property would doom continuance of the institution.

The 1961-62 budget, as revised for publication, is to be presented. Summer school reports are also on the agenda.

Job Awarded

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— The State Department of Public Works has awarded a $122,980 contract to Brown-Ely Co. Contractors, San Rafael, for grading and paving to relocate one mile of the Lucas Valley Road (FAS Road 1278) between .8 mile and 1.9 miles west of U.S. Highway 101, north of San Rafael.

Industrial Park Before Planners

The Novato Planning Commission will consider the tentative map of the first unit of the proposed 460-acre Hanna Industrial Park at 8 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

The first area proposed for subdivision is approximately 33 acres between the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks and Highway 101 near the Ignacio Wye.

The commission also has on its agenda applications from Joseph R. Filippo for a use permit and architectural supervision for a market on the East side of Highway 101 in the Ignacio area, between the Standard Oil service station and Meadow Park School.

Also on the agenda are a hearing on the cross roads master plan, covering the property in the northwest corner of the intersection of South Novato Boulevard and 101; the trailer court ordinance; application from Andrew Talbot to permit additional parking facilities for the Talbot Building in a one-family residence area.

Firemen Dance

The annual Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Dance will be held Oct. 14 at the Corinthian Yacht Club, it was decided at a recent meeting of the firemen's assn. Randolph J. Esplen is general chairman of the dance, which will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER — Vickie Sahagian, (center), has been awarded the Marin Shakespeare Festival scholarship of 1961. Miss Sahagian appears as the Amazon Queen in the festival's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" which opens Friday at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center. Harry Mack of Ross, (left), plays Philostrate; Harry Oltmans of San Francisco plays Egeus and Cliff H. Potter of Corte Madera, Theseus. This is a wedding scene.

Music Will Be The Star Of New 'Glenn Miller Time' Show Tonight

THERE'LL BE NO rock 'n' roll on the "Glenn Miller Time" series which debuts tonight (10 o'clock on KPIX) for a summerlong run.

If you are like us, just the titles of such wonderful songs as "Moonlight Serenade" and "In the Mood" suffice to plunge us into nostalgic memories of two decades plus ago when Miller recordings were the hottest things in the juke boxes.

The CBS network promises that music played on the new Monday night show will be in the finest Glenn Miller tradition. Serving as co-hosts will be two Miller proteges, singer Johnny Desmond and bandleader Ray McKinley who presently wields the baton for an organization which still plays under the banner of the Glenn Miller Orchestra. Vocalist Patty Clark and the Castle Sisters, a trio of singers, will also appear. But if the shows are properly planned, it will be the music itself which will be the star.

Definitely scheduled for tonight's premiere are the likes of the afore-mentioned "Moonlight Serenade" and "In the Mood," plus "Starry Night," "The Birth of the Blues," "Hey, Look Me Over," and "Serenade in Blue."

A COUPLE OF television shows to be seen during the next two evenings will feature Marin personalities.

Tonight at 8 o'clock on KQED, San Quentin Prison Warden Fred Dickson will be interviewed by James Day on "Kaleidoscope." Dickson was recently the subject of a most interesting "profile" in your Independent-Journal Marin Magazine.

Then tomorrow night on the nationally televised "PM West" show, seen here on KPIX starting at 12:15 a.m., Sausalito poet Gerd Stern will read from his own work to the bongo drum accompaniment of Jack Costanzo. Costanzo has taught Marlon Brando and other celebrities how to play the bongos.

THE MAJOR LEAGUE all-star baseball game from San Francisco's Candlestick Park will be on the air tomorrow starting at 12:45 p.m. on KRON. West Coast favorite Russ Hodges and the Eastern veteran Mel Allen will be the TV sportscasters. A 15-minute pre-game show will begin at 12:30 p.m.

OTHER recommended viewing:

Tonight — A one-hour report on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's visit to the Philippines, at 7:30 on KRON.

Tomorrow — "The Constant Protectors," a "Focus on America" documentary about the St. Louis police department, at 7 p.m. on KGO; cellist Pablo Casals in a half-hour of Bach's "Suite in G Major," at 7:30 on KPIX; a debate on the John Birch Society by an "Open End" panel composed of U.S. Sen. Gale McGee, seminarian Dr. John C. Bennett, and Birch Society council members Congressman John Rousselot and Thomas J. Anderson, at 8:30 on KQED; a two-hour concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra with Howard Barlow conducting, 9 o'clock on KTVU; a repeat of the "Playhouse 90" drama about strife in Algeria entitled "The Cruel Day" starring Van Heflin, Raymond Massey and Peter Lorre, 9:30 p.m. on KPIX; and an encore of the excellent "Project 20" special, "Those Ragtime Years," with Hoagy Carmichael and the music of 1900-1920, 10 p.m. on KRON.

Wednesday — A discussion of mentally disturbed children by the panel on the "Doctors News Conference program," 7:30 p.m. on KTVU; a repeat of the comedy with a Harlem setting, "Simply Heavenly," featuring Claudia McNeil and Earle Hyman, as the "Play of the Week" on KTVU at 8 o'clock; and another comedy, "Watching Out For Dulie," this one occurring in London and starring Larry Blyden and Shari Lewis, on the "U.S. Steel Hour," 10 o'clock on KPIX.

Scholarship Winner To Appear In Play

Vickie Sahagian, 24, of San Francisco has been named winner of the Marin Shakespeare Festival scholarship for 1961 by the festival's board of directors.

The $300 grant is to provide Miss Sahagian with experience in stagecraft and to enable her to be an actor-technician full time during the summer.

Other scholarship winners for the 1961 season will be announced as funds accrue and a full program of six actor-technicians grants is contemplated for next year, director John Brebner said.

Miss Sahagian plays Hyppolyta, Amazon queen, in the festival's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" opening at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center for a run of six weekends. She has had other theatrical experience in college and with community theater groups including work in "Caesar and Cleopatra" and "Hamlet."

She speaks fluent Armenian and began acting at the age of seven in Armenian folk plays.

Tickets for the Marin Shakespeare Festival's inaugural production may be obtained at Orrick's Travel Bureau in San Anselmo or at the box office on performance nights. The play will run on Friday and Saturday nights through Aug. 19.

Planners To Study Trees, Fees And Signs

Trees, fees and signs that stand free will be taken up by the Corte Madera Planning Commission tonight — all referred to it by the town council.

The commission meets at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

An ordinance repealing the community facilities fee, an ordinance changing the permissible size of free-standing signs, and a proposed tree cutting and planting ordinance to replace the one rejected by the council July 3 will be studied by the planners.

The commission will also consider three items approved by the board of design: a Thom Mc An shoe store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center, the balance of 34 apartments in Madera Valley Apartments, and an addition to Denny's House of Plumbing at 5726 Paradise Drive.

A tentative map for a planned unit development on 20.3 acres on the old quarry site off Highway 101 will also be considered. The plan was submitted by Scarco, Inc. of San Rafael. A report on it is due from Livingston and Blayney, town planning consultants.

Ex-Marinite In Research Program

H. E. (Ed) Cabaud, 17-year-old Sonoma Valley High School senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cabaud, former San Rafael residents, is attending University of California at Berkeley to participate in its High School Students' Research Program.

Young Cabaud will leave in August to attend school in Germany under The American Field Service program.

While at U.C., he will assist Dr. Jack Washburn, associate professor of metallurgy, with the growth and preparation of single crystal specimens that are being used for fundamental research on the mechanism of plastic deformation and fracture of crystaline materials.

Dance Date Set

The Belvedere Volunteer Firemen will plan their annual dance, to be held in August, at their meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the firehouse, according to president John A. Ericson.

BLIND FOR 43 YEARS...

SHE SEES AGAIN! Mrs. Violetta Nider, 50, a refugee from Yugoslavia, regained her sight last year . . . after being blind for 43 years! At a camp near Naples, she was examined and found operable. A month later in a Geneva Hospital, she could see completely from one eye, partially from the other. The miracle of sight had been restored!

The happy outcome was a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Catholic—all three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs that provide basic foods, clothing, shelter, jobs, education, tools and equipment—to the millions in need overseas.

Mrs. Nider's case is dramatic. A glass of milk for a hungry child can be dramatic, too! These programs must continue. They offer the only hope to millions. When you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember "blind" Mrs. Nider. Give generously!

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Leading Businessman Advocates Building Shops Before Courthouse

A cogent idea for the use of the front of the Marin County Court House property, should it be declared surplus by the Board of Supervisors, has been advanced by ubiquitous Fred Enemark, executive vice president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association and a man of many cogent ideas.

"Why not," he wants to know, "let the property be leased to a non-profit corporation to build a complete block of shopping along Fourth Street, with a patio entrance through to the Court House itself?"

Although there are several ways of disposing of the property, Enemark feels that a non-profit group would find it easier to lease instead of buying it. The new construction would not interfere in any way with the present building, add to the appearance of the city and certainly bring in additional tax revenue.

"It would, of course," he adds, "be put up for bid."

Envisioned is a modern block of high-type stores between A and Court Streets with two floors of parking—either below ground or above ground. Since it is possible there would be water trouble below, most practical solution would probably be to have parking on the top floor and roof.

So far, Enemark has run into nothing but enthusiasm in talking up his proposal, except —

"What of the sitters in front of the Court House?" asked one doubtful inquirer. "They're going to be mighty unhappy."

"Think of the fun they'll have watching it being built," answered Fred. "After that we'll give them a patio on the roof."

ELECTED to the board of directors of the San Francisco and Oakland Helicopter Airlines, Inc. is Roger Kent, Marin resident and state chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Art Classes Set For Juveniles

Classes in painting, clay work and paper mache for juveniles began yesterday at the Inverness Art Center which opened last Tuesday.

Inverness Properties Inc. dedicated a space behind the old Inverness store for the showing of original arts and crafts created by members of the community.

The gallery will be open for public inspection every weekend through the summer months, said organizer Mrs. Richard Graveson of Inverness.

Since several adults have shown interest in classes there is the possibility that an older group will be organized, Mrs. Graveson said. The younger group will work twice a week.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Leading Businessman Advocates Building Shops Before Courthouse

A cogent idea for the use of the front of the Marin County Court House property, should it be declared surplus by the Board of Supervisors, has been advanced by ubiquitous Fred Enemark, executive vice president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Association and a man of many cogent ideas.

"Why not," he wants to know, "let the property be leased to a non-profit corporation to build a complete block of shopping along Fourth Street, with a patio entrance through to the Court House itself?"

Although there are several ways of disposing of the property, Enemark feels that a non-profit group would find it easier to lease instead of buying it. The new construction would not interfere in any way with the present building, add to the appearance of the city and certainly bring in additional tax revenue.

"It would, of course," he adds, "be put up for bid."

Envisioned is a modern block of high-type stores between A and Court Streets with two floors of parking—either below ground or above ground. Since it is possible there would be water trouble below, most practical solution would probably be to have parking on the top floor and roof.

So far, Enemark has run into nothing but enthusiasm in talking up his proposal, except —

"What of the sitters in front of the Court House?" asked one doubtful inquirer. "They're going to be mighty unhappy."

"Think of the fun they'll have watching it being built," answered Fred. "After that we'll give them a patio on the roof."
